

FREDERICK S. STRATTON NEARLY KILLED

NEARLY DASHED TO DEATH. THROWN FROM A STAGE COACH IN NORTH.

Fred Jones, Harry Connors and Three Girls Have Miraculous Escape.

Steering Gear Breaks While the Machine was Going at the Rate of Forty Miles an Hour.

A wild ride at the rate of fifty miles an hour in a runaway automobile was the experience of Fred Jones, Harry Connors and three gay young women, at 2 o'clock this morning on the Hayward road.

RENDERED UNCONSCIOUS.
As it was, they were badly shaken up, and the women were rendered unconscious for a time.

The machine, No. 2,372, is owned by Otis W. Engs, of the Realty Syndicate. He loaned it to Fred Jones, who is an expert machinist. Jones has been in the habit of repairing the machine, and using it. Mr. Engs had nothing to do with the trip last night, nor does he know any of the parties concerned, except Jones.

HAD A GAY TIME.
The party had been out for a lively time and had drunk deeply of the cheering bowl. On the way home Jones was driving the car at a terrific speed, when the steering gear broke and left the car unmanageable.

AUTO OVERTURNED.
In an instant the auto swerved and overturned in front of the power house at Elmhurst.

The young men were bruised, but the women were rendered unconscious for quite a time. Their injuries are not serious.

Jones gave the following fake names of the women: Agnes Martens, Mary Martens, Violet Burns.

They were coming from Hayward to Oakland, and according to the testimony of those who took care of them, they did not have complete possession of themselves. The machine struck a telegraph pole and overturned onto its side, throwing the two men and three women companions, or rather girls, out of the automobile into the road. Two of the women were thrown a distance of at least fifteen feet each.

TIRE BURSTS.
The pistol-like report caused by the bursting of one of the rear tires of the machine attracted the workmen of the power house to the scene, and with all due speed they gathered up the unconscious women from the road and carried them into the power house office.

SEND FOR PHYSICIANS.
As they were all unconscious, and at least two of them bleeding from their bruises which they received, it was supposed that they were seriously injured, and accordingly they summoned Dr. W. F. Lynch of Elmhurst immediately, and also sent a special car to Fruitvale for Doctors Crosby and Huntington.

By the time that the latter doctors arrived, however, Dr. Lynch had done all that was possible to do.

REFUSED TO PAY.
He restored the women to consciousness, and had done all that was necessary for them, but as the men became very insolent in their bearing towards both the employees of the power house and the doctor, and both men and women refused to give their names or pay for the services of the physician or give any guarantee that they would pay, and insisted that they did not need any assistance, the doctor did not do as much as he would otherwise to be done.

By the time he had attended to their immediate wants the other physicians arrived and there was nothing further to be done.

Not only were the men insolent toward those who were trying to help them, and all of the party non-committal as to their identity, the men showed an unusual degree of carelessness toward their companions, when the automobile overturned.

They showed no concern at all toward taking care of the women, but busied themselves in taking care of the machine, and when spoken to by the employees of the powerhouse about their carelessness, one is reported to have said, "Oh, I don't care anything about them. They are all right. I am a sight more interested in this machine."

After resting a couple of hours, in the power house office the whole party boarded the first car for Oakland. The girls went to Eighth and Adeline where they got off the car.

The automobile was an old one, with a gasoline machine, Splittorf coil.

ONE A YOUNG GIRL.
Of the parties in the accident one of the women was a girl about 15 years of age, weighed about 100 pounds, and had dark brown hair and was dressed in a brown suit with a checkered cap. The other one appeared to be her sister and was about 20 years old, a little heavier set, and was dressed in a gray cloak, a white shirt waist, and a gray skirt.

These two were considerably hurt. The other one did not seem to be friendly with these two, and fainted dead away, and was longer coming to and seemed to be more affected by the accident than either of the other two girls. The little one was the first to recover from the accident and was quite pleasant and cheery, encouraging the others.

OFFICIAL OF BANK IS SHOT

FRESNO, Sept. 22.—There was great excitement today, shortly before the noon hour, on the principal street,

FRANCIS PEABODY IS DEAD

BEVERLY, Mass., Sept. 22.—Francis H. Peabody, member of the Boston banking firm of Kidder, Peabody and Company, died suddenly of heart disease at his home at Beverly Cove today aged 74 years. Mr. Peabody was stricken during the night. The family physician was hurriedly summoned, but could do nothing to relieve the dying banker.

Mr. Peabody apparently was enjoying excellent health yesterday. He went to Boston and spent several hours at the offices of Kidder, Peabody and Company.

For nearly half a century Mr. Peabody had been prominent in the financial circles of the country. In 1855 he organized the firm of Kidder, Peabody and Co., one of the prominent financial institutions of the world. Mr. Peabody is survived by a widow, one son and one daughter.

Falls on Brink of a Precipice—Two Others Who Were in the Coach are Fatally Injured.

COLLECTOR OF PORT FRED S. STRATTON of Oakland, who was nearly killed in a runaway in Oregon.

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 22: 25 miles from Klamath, in Oregon.

Collector of this port Fred S. Stratton narrowly escaped death, and two persons are dying as a result of a wild ride in a runaway stage coach.

Theodore Reynolds, the driver, and Miss Bussey, a passenger, of Allendale, Or., received injuries that will prove fatal.

BRAKE BROKE.
The accident occurred Wednesday afternoon, between Chases,

Mariposa, over a shooting affray in the office of the Postal Telegraph Company.

The shooter was Joseph Smith, and the wounded man Frank Avenall of the State Bank at Fowler in this county.

He came here about one year ago from Illinois.

Smith was formerly assistant cashier of the Farmers' National Bank here, and then removed to Selma as cashier of a newly instituted bank there, in which Klondike Berry is interested.

He was ousted from the office some time ago and returning to Fresno, opened a real estate office here in the Postal office a few days ago.

What the controversy between Smith and Avenall is does not appear, as neither will talk about the affair, though it is common belief that it relates to financial affairs.

They were both seated at Smith's desk in conversation, somewhat heated at the last, and all at once Smith shot, but missed aim.

A second shot struck Avenall in the back on the right side and came out at the breast.

The wound is not a dangerous one. Avenall fell, but was assisted to a hack near by and driven to a sanitarium.

Smith was placed under arrest. Although there were half a dozen people in the place, not one actually witnessed the act of shooting, so quickly did the affair take place.

brink of the precipice.

When he regained consciousness, Reynolds, the driver, was lying alongside of him with his head split open. Miss Bussey was not far away, and she was bleeding from the mouth and nostrils.

Other passengers, a Mr. Schuman of this city and Charles Moore Jr., son of the Secretary of State for Oregon, was also injured, but it is not thought very seriously.

THEY GAVE AID.
Collector Stratton and the passengers who were not badly hurt hurried to the assistance of the persons imprisoned in the stage coach and succeeded in getting them out of the debris.

STRATTON AT HOME.
All were taken back to Chases and a physician was sent for, but it was seven hours before he arrived.

Meanwhile the driver and Miss Bussey became gradually worse and when Mr. Stratton left the scene of the accident yesterday were believed to be dying.

Mr. Stratton arrived here this morning and is at his home in Oakland. He was badly shaken up and bruised.

LIVELY RUN ON A BANK

CHICAGO, Sept. 22.—Although the counters of Benjamin J. Schiffs private bank in the Jewish quarters are loaded down with stacks of silver dollars and $20 gold pieces, the run on the bank which was started last night was resumed today.

Hundreds of anxious people massed in front of the bank. Fifteen policemen were kept busy in attempts to get the depositors' into line, to clear the streets, and force a passage way along the sidewalk.

THROWS BOMB AT BANK

WARSAW, Russian Poland, Sept. 22.—An attempt was made today to destroy the Shereshevsky bank. A man threw a bomb at an open window of the bank, but missed his aim, and the missile exploded in the court yard, dangerously injuring the perpetrator of the crime, a young Jew.

It appears that the outrage was due to the fact that the bank officials had refused to contribute to the funds of the revolutionists.

GASOLINE TANK EXPLODES

SAN JOSE, Sept. 22.—The explosion of an ordinary plumber's pot while two plumbers were at work this morning in the oil and gasoline storage house of the Cook-Oil Company, on First street, caused a number of gasoline tanks to explode, and had the fire department been a minute later the entire establishment must have blown up.

The resulting fire was extinguished, but two employees, Charles Vorhies and "Doc" Dewton, were severely burned, the former's injuries being of a dangerous nature.

Detective Tichenor Says He Saw Jordan Give Roll of Bills to Emmons.

SACRAMENTO, Sept. 22.—With the resumption of the Emmons case this morning, Detective Geo. N. Tichenor took the witness stand under cross examination by Grove L. Johnson, principal counsel for the defense. Tichenor is the detective employed to entrap the boodling Senators.

Under cross examination late yesterday afternoon Tichenor told of having seen Jos. S. Jordan hand money in bills to Emmons. He answered a series of questions by Johnson relating to his employment covering a number of years, and in the course of this testimony told that he had been a Pullman car conductor before engaging in detective work, and that prior to that he had been employed in the office of the Rock Island Railroad Company.

Hired to Trap Senators.
This morning Tichenor said he was employed by William Corbin, secretary of the Continental Building and Loan Association, to come to Sacramento and entrap the Senators who were subsequently indicted for boodling. The witness said he received instructions as to how he was to proceed from Corbin.

After recounting his arrival in Sacramento and the fact that he registered at a downtown hotel as

ACCUSED YOUTH'S FATHER FEARS "UNLUCKY 13"

Parent of Percy Pembroke, Accused of Murder, Has Date of Trial Changed to 14th Day.

George Blaker, charged with the murder of Thomas Cook, will be the first of the three youths implicated in the affair to stand trial for his offense.

In the Superior Court this morning he entered a plea of not guilty to the offense and Attorney A. L. Frick, stated that they were ready to go to trial any time after the first of November. The first days coming together in order to give time for the trial was found to be November 6th, and the trial was set down for that date.

PERBROKE PLEADS.

Percy Pembroke was arraigned and plead not guilty and his case was set down for trial on November 14th. It was first set down for Monday, the 13th, but after the case was set, Pembroke's father who is evidently somewhat of a believer in luck, and was present in the courtroom, pointed out the fact of its being the 13th and asked Attorney Lin Church to have the date changed.

Smiling, Church asked Judge Wente to fix the date for the 14th, and the first order was vacated and a new one made, fixing it for the 14th.

The trial of John Schneider, under the present arrangement, will come last. At the request of Austin Lewis his arraignment was put over for a week, and the time for his trial will not be set until next week, when in the sequence of things it will follow the other two.

TELLS HOW BRIBE MONEY WAS PRESENTED.

morning.

He went to 1116 Seventh street and there met Jordan. He introduced himself to Jordan and told him he was the man who had had $350 each for Bunkers, Wright, Emmons and French to protect the building and loan associations which were threatened with investigation. Jordan said he wanted $250 as his commission, and the witness said he assured Jordan the money would be paid to him.

After giving the witness a key which would permit him to enter the house without ringing the door bell, Jordan left him, saying he was going to the Senate chamber.

WILLING TO TAKE $350.

At five o'clock that evening Tichenor met Jordan again. The latter said he had talked with Wright, French and Bunkers and they had informed him they were willing to accept $350 each, but that Emmons was not.

Later on, in the conversation Jordan said it would be a good idea to give all the money to one man, and suggested Senator Emmons as the man.

Tichenor said he told Jordan he would have to communicate with people in San Francisco, meaning Corbin and Clarence Grange.

Tichenor said he demurred further, telling Jordan he did not believe Emmons was honest, and that he would not like to trust him with the money.

AFRAID OF EMMONS.

Johnson then read from the testimony given by Tichenor before the Senate investigation committee. At that time Tichenor testified that the reason he did not want to trust the money to Emmons was that he did not like the reputation Emmons bore in Kern county.

Tichenor said that, testimony was correct and that he might have been in error when he testified today that he told Jordan he did not think Emmons was honest.

Tichenor then added that he told Jordan that the Phoenix and the Renters, two of the building and loan associations concerned, objected to all the money being paid to Emmons.

Taking up another point, Johnson asked Tichenor why he had brought Detective Henry Hartling to Sacramento with him. The witness replied that he wanted Hartling to witness the payment of the bribe money to Emmons, Wright, French and Bunkers.

PAID OVER THE MONEY

Tichenor then pointed out upon the blackboard diagram the point at which he stood when he saw Jordan hand the marked bills to Emmons. This point was a few feet above the American Cash Store at Eighth and K streets, and Jordan and Emmons were directly opposite him, across K street.

Tichenor, at the request of Johnson, showed how Jordan handed the money to Emmons.

Jordan used his right hand, but the witness could not recall which hand Emmons used in receiving the money.

THE ROLL OF BILLS.

Johnson then asked Tichenor to show how the marked bills were rolled. Tichenor rolled the bills into small compass, and Johnson called the attention of the jury to the very small package. Tichenor here said the bills were in the condition he had indicated when he and Jordan prepared them.

Jordan carried the bills in his pockets some time and naturally they unrolled, the witness said. He then showed the condition in which the bills were when, as alleged, Jordan gave them to Emmons. This roll was much larger than that which the witness and Jordan prepared.

IN McNAB'S OFFICE.

The witness, in response to a question by Johnson, said he had a conversation with District Attorney Seymour in the office of Gavin McNab on January 31st. He did not recall that he and Seymour discussed the testimony he was to give before the Senate investigating committee.

Tichenor testified that he, acting for the Continental Building and Loan Association, paid Detective Hartling $5 a day and expenses for the work the latter did in entrapping the senatorial quartet.

The witness said he made a memorandum of the time Jordan handed the money to Emmons; he did not have that memorandum in his possession now.

VIOLATED MILE LIMIT LAW

BERKELEY, Sept. 22.—E. Van Antwerp, a solicitor employed by Golders, Bowen and Company, in Oakland, pleaded guilty this morning before Justice Edgar to a charge of selling liquor within the mile limit in Berkeley.

He was arrested a fortnight ago, after Marshal Vollmer's men had secured evidence that Van Antwerp had solicited an order for liquor for Mrs. E. L. Corryell, at her home on Fulton street.

The mile limit law of the State statute, provides that liquor shall not be sold or given away, within a mile of the University.

The penalty for the offense is a fine of not more than $500, and imprisonment not to exceed six months.

The time for pronouncing sentence was set by Justice Edgar for next Tuesday.

WOMAN HAS STARTED IN A RACE WITH DEATH

Court Hastens Her Case So That She Might Go to Dying Husband's Beside.

In order that she may hasten to the bedside of her husband, who is dying in Utah, the distribution of the estate of the late John Rock, of Niles, was pushed forward this morning by Judge Ogden and the half of the estate the daughter is entitled to which amounts to about $22,500, was awarded to her. She will now immediately set out as fast as steam can carry her for her home.

Florence Rock was but eighteen years of age when her father died, less than a year ago. Some months after his death she married N. P. Thompson, a miner, who left her, that he might go to work in his mines until she could follow him, which was to have been as soon as the affairs of her father's estate could be settled.

Word was received a few days ago, however, that Thompson was seriously ill and not likely to live, and his wife, requiring the money coming to her from her father's estate to enable her to go to him, had Attorney Gwilt press the matter, asking for a distribution of the estate, which was granted this morning, and the order made.

Another point that came up in the proceedings and upon which the Attorney General is to be asked to make his appearance, is upon the distribution of the other half of the estate. Rock, when he died, left an estate valued at $55,000, one-half of which he bequeathed to his daughter and the other one-half to a boy, now eight years of age, born to him and one Josephine Hortense Stabler, but now Mrs. S. B. Smith of San Francisco.

The question that occupied the Court's attention this morning was the disposition of the boy's half of the estate. Attorneys S. F. Leih, Clark & Clark, Snook & Church and Gwilt took part in the arguments which was over the question of whether the boy would have to pay the collateral inheritance of 5 per cent demanded by the State. It was argued by Attorneys Snook & Church that the fact of the father's acknowledgment of the child in his will made him his lawful heir and son, and that he was exempt from paying the tax which it was figured would amount to about $1500. Upon this subject, however, Judge Ogden did not feel quite clear, and he postponed the matter, distributing to the boy all of his share with the exception of $1500, which he has directed to be held back until the Attorney-General has been given an opportunity to be represented in the matter, as the money would go directly to the State.

The child and his mother were in court after the child was born, Rock and she had tried to conceal the fact that the child belonged to them, but that Rock had promised her father and brother that he would make provision for it and gave her an allowance, and in his will acknowledged the boy and gave it an equal share in the estate with his daughter.

TELL OF COLLISION AT SEA

Oil Steamer Rammed; Cargo Running Into the Coal Bunkers.

NEW YORK, Sept. 22.—The steamer Ocean, which arrived here today from Rotterdam, reported that the German tank steamer Phoebeus, which she passed yesterday, signalled that she had been in collision with an unknown steamer.

It is probably that it was the Phoebeus that collided with the steamer Cornwall, which arrived here yesterday and whose captain reported that he believed he had been in collision with an Atlantic liner in a fog near Montauk Point on Wednesday night. The Phoebeus was bound from New York for Flushing, Holland.

Captain Boyesen of the steamer Ocean said later that the Phoebeus was probably proceeding on her way across the Atlantic with a leak caused by the collision, in a 350,000 gallon oil tank.

The Phoebeus, he said, had a great dent amidships, extending from her deck down into the water line, where the prow of the unknown other steamer hit her.

A boat which the Phoebeus dispatched to the Ocean reported that the contents of the leaking oil tank were thought to be running into the coal, but that unless this leak was more serious than it had appeared to be up to that time, the Phoebeus would continue her voyage.

Officers of the Phoebeus said that the accident occurred 100 miles east of Nantucket Lightship, and, although their steamer stopped for three hours following the accident, the other steamer was not seen again.

The Phoebeus carried 2,700,000 gallons of oil.

THE LACE HOUSE

127 AND WASHINGTON STS.

THE FREAKISHNESS OF THE WEATHER

should not deceive you. We're enjoying real summery days, 'tis true, but October is only a week away. Is it wise then to longer delay the selection of Fall's necessities? Come while the stocks are unbroken, while novelties are exclusive and while it is easier to find exactly what you want.

Special Sale of FALL WAISTS

AT LESS THAN HALF VALUES

There are about 150 of these waists—the odd numbers and broken lines of one of the best makers; each is perfect in workmanship; the sizes are disarranged; materials are French flannel, Alpaca, and Scotch flannel. We've put them into three lots, marked at less than half regular price.

75c; 1.25; 1.50

LADIES' LONG COATS

A pleasing task indeed to choose a stylish Fall coat from our varied and large stock. Solid colors and the popular manish mixtures in half-fitting or full box effects; the new pad-dock coats and the popular "Rivoli"; all the correct lengths; prices range from 6.50, 10.00, 14.50, and to 25.00.

Children's Coats and Jackets

Stronger than ever is our showing of bright, smart outer garments for children. The Long Coats range in price from 6.95 to 12.50

At 6.95—Child's long coat of heavy chevrot, neatly trimmed with velvet and fancy braid; belted back with 2 large gilt buckles; full sleeves, plaited from cuff to elbow; fancy buttons; sizes 8 to 14 years; blue, brown and mixtures.

Children's Jackets are priced 4.95, 5.50 and to 7.50

At 4.95

Neat Jacket of heavy cloak chevrot; full sleeves; collar and cuffs trimmed with black and white braid; belted lock with large buckle; fancy brass buttons; sizes 8 to 14 years.

Walking, Skirts in Fall's Latest Styles

Plenty of styles and all sizes in each; Panama cloth, chevrots and mixtures of proper colors; the kilted and box plait effects are most popular and therefore most numerous in our display, but there are other novelties, also.

Prices 2.75, 3.25 and to 10.50

Children's Hats

As pretty a showing of new headwear for juveniles as any mother could wish to inspect.

At 1.00

Child's Hat of felt and silk; fluted brim; tan crown; brown, red, Alice blue and champagne.

At 2.00

Child's Colonial Hat of felt with white velvet rosette and two large quills; red, champagne, Alice blue.

At 2.25

Napoleon style of child's felt hat; large rosette of ribbon and quill in front; castor, red, Alice blue; very effective.

Other styles of children's new Fall hats up to 6.80.

Neckwear, Veilings, Hosiery

These three departments are proudly displaying exceptionally varied and voluminous novelties of the best that Fall has produced.

SPECIAL SALE OF ART LINENS

DEMOCRATS FAVOR FUSION

DECLARE FOR ONE SET OF CANDIDATES FOR BOTH PARTIES.

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 22.—The municipal convention of the regular Democracy met last evening in Pioneer Hall and, after effecting a permanent organization, adopted a resolution declaring in favor of fusion and one set of candidates for both the Democratic and Republican parties in this city.

The business of the nominating body was conducted expeditiously and with but one interruption. The convention adjourned until tonight.

WIFE OF AUTHOR HAS PASSED AWAY

Mrs. Margaret Whitaker, wife of Herman Whitaker, the well-known writer, passed away at Fabiola Hospital yesterday.

She was taken there three weeks ago, for an operation for appendicitis. The operation appeared to be successful and she seemed to be getting along nicely until Wednesday, when complications arose, and her condition became suddenly worse, resulting in death.

Mrs. Whitaker was 37 years of age, a native of Canada, where she met her husband, who is a native of England. They were married in Canada sixteen years ago. Mrs. Whitaker's parents still reside there.

Besides her husband, the deceased leaves seven children, ranging in age from six to fifteen years—Herman, Jr., Elsie, Ralph, Percy, Catty, Vera and John Whitaker.

The funeral will be held in the chapel of the Oakland Crematory at 10:30 a. m. Saturday.

The husband of the deceased, Mr. Herman Whitaker is well known as a writer of fiction magazine articles, and within the past year, made a trip to Old Mexico, where he obtained much information and material for his work as an author.

RAILWAY EDUCATION IN A UNIVERSITY

CHICAGO, Sept. 22.—Co-operation between the University of Chicago and a number of railroad officials has resulted in the establishment of a four-year course of railway education.

An advisory board composed mostly of railroad men has been established with E. W. McKenna, assistant to President Easting of the Chicago, Milwaukee and St. Paul, as chairman, and Daniel Willard, second vice president of the Burlington, is vice-chairman. Among those who form this board are: A. C. Bird, A. F. Banks, W. C. Brown, A. C. Delano, J. T. Harahan, J. N. Fathorn, S. M. Faxon, W. A. Gardner, S. T. Fulton, J. Kruttschnitt and B. Thomas. These men, representing as they do all phases of railroading, will shape the courses which are to be given and will themselves as occasion requires, deliver lectures.

The first year's course, from October to June, will be devoted to railway conditions in the United States. The second year will be devoted to freight service, railway transportation, railway law and rate legislation. During the third year, the following branches will be covered: Passenger service, statistics and geography of railways, signaling and train service, railway auditing and finance, and terminals. During the fourth year the following subjects will be studied: Motive power, car equipment, track, railway development abroad, and the economics of railway development.

THIEVES GET BUSY.

Mrs. Mary Cronin, residing at 1803 Eighth street, reported to the police today that her bicycle was stolen from the corner of Thirteenth and Washington streets yesterday.

The Oakland Traction Company lost by theft, 100 feet of steel cable yesterday from a repairing outfit at work near Thirteenth avenue and East Fourteenth street.

M. Levy, who conducts a bicycle shop at 330 San Pablo avenue, reports to the police that someone stole two tires from his place yesterday.

WANT INVESTIGATION.

VICTORIA, B. C., Sept. 22.—An Ottawa special says: The owners of the Victoria, B. C. bark Antelope, have wired the State Department asking it to intervene with the Japanese Government in their behalf. They state their vessel was seized by Japan on August 18, while consigned to Nicolaelevsk with a cargo of salt for delivery. She was taken off Sakhalin on the charge of carrying contraband four staves, and taken to Hakodate for trial. The Secretary of State has reported the case to the British authorities. The owners protest that the vessel had no contraband.

GOLF TOURNAMENT.

HAMILTON, Mass., Sept. 22.—The third round of the four rounds of golf play in the open golf championship started this morning at the Mopie Hunt Club with 67 players left in the running after yesterday's strenuous work.

GUEST OF EMPEROR.

TOKIO, Sept. 22.—Sir Michael Hicks-Beach, former chancellor of the exchequer, and party will be entertained at luncheon by the Emperor tomorrow after an imperial audience.

TRUSTEES WIN FIRST HEAT

COURT'S DECISION IS IN FAVOR OF SAN LEANDRO BOARD.

The fight over the refusal of the Town Trustees of San Leandro to grant one John Marshall a permit to remove his place of business, resulted in a temporary victory for the Trustees, represented by Attorney L. H. Church, who got the proceedings, brought against the Trustees to oust them from office by F. M. Nevin, dismissed at the ground that the action had been improperly brought. It is stated that a new action is to be immediately begun and will be pushed by those who believe they have been discriminated against.

Under the ruling of Judge Ellsworth the action brought against the Trustees is a criminal one and as such should have been brought in the name of the People of the State of California and was not properly entitled. The merits of the case however never came up for consideration this point being decided on demurrer.

SCENIC EFFECTS AT CRESCENT THEATER

To realize the vast amount of work required to produce a big scenic melodrama one should go behind the scenes at the Crescent Theater this week and see the army of carpenters, property men, scene-shifters, horses, Arabs, etc., that are used in "Lost in the Desert."

Everything is one bewildering mass of bustle and hurry. The ponderous pieces of scenery to represent rocky caverns, ships and sand storms move into view of the audience with ease and rapidity. No expense is spared at the Crescent to perfect every detail. There are real horses, genuine Arabs, real sand in the sand storm, and above all, they have the best company that has ever presented a melodrama in Oakland, including Langens Stevens, Talbot, Whitney and Petro Sosa.

Next week Theo. Cramer's great sensational play, "Beyond Pardon," will be presented.

GOVERNOR PARDEE GIVES EXPLANATION

SACRAMENTO, Sept. 22.—Governor Pardee was yesterday asked to express some general opinion as to the causes which induce the California Commission to withdraw from the jury award committee of the Portland Exposition. The governor replied that there were many causes some of which had already been named.

"Imagine," he said, "the absurdity of asking our exhibitors to surrender three samples of everything to be judged such samples to be taken away from the exhibit and stored outside the building. Assuming, for example, that there were 1000 kinds of wine. We are asked to hand over 3000 bottles to be removed from the favorable conditions of our exhibit into unfavorable conditions elsewhere. It was to be the same with everything—three samples must be given up. We were willing to give every facility for judging in our building but we object to have the exhibit moved. There were, of course, other reasons also, but they all come under the head of what our people call unfair methods."

THE LATEST NEWS OF THE DAY-4:30 P. M.

ROBBERS
HOLD UP
SALOONDraw Pistols and Make the Occupants
Line Up.

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 22.—Three masked men held up the proprietor and two customers of the saloon conducted by W. Grace at 1101 Folsom street early this morning.

With drawn revolvers the robbers, three abreast, pressed in the swinging doors. Ilned Grace, William McDonald and George Young against the bar, relieved Grace of $42.50, took $25 from the cash register and a valuable gold watch from McDonald.

They then made their escape and have not yet been arrested.

NARROW
FROM FIREFLAMES THREATEN A BUSINESS
BLOCK IN TOWN OF BERKELEY.

BERKELEY, Sept. 22.—Fire, which threatened the destruction of the entire block at Center street and Shattuck avenue, in which Pond's drug store is situated, was put out by the fire department at 8 o'clock this morning.

Deputy Marshal George Thompson's timely discovery of the blaze in the basement of Pond's drug store and his quick call for the fire department saved the business section of the town from a disastrous conflagration.

Chemicals stored in the basement of the drug store are believed to have ignited spontaneously, setting fire to the floor and the walls of the building.

Deputy Thompson saw the smoke creeping through the windows of the basement and immediately gave the alarm. The firemen were obliged to use their axes in cutting into the basement, tearing away almost the entire left side of the building above the basement on Center street. When they gained ingress the chemical flames immediately flared, but after fifteen minutes of fire fighting with both smoke and fire all danger of destruction to the building was averted.

F. J. WOODWARD'S
ANSWER.

An answer and cross-complaint was filed this afternoon by F. J. Woodward in the suit brought by Josephine S. Bruguere to recover $35,000 as part of the purchase price of the Sather tract from F. C. Havens, F. M. Smith, F. J. Woodward, J. H. Chickering, and Le Roy Harvey.

Woodward claims in his answer that he employed Harvey as his agent to purchase the Sather tract for the least sum possible from Mrs. Bruguere. He says that Harvey got the land from her for $215,000 and sold it to him for $250,000, claiming that he lost thereby $35,000. This money is now in the hands of W. H. Chickering, Mrs. Bruguere is endeavoring to get it from him in order to pay Harvey this sum.

PLAN FOR CITY IS COMPLETE.

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 22.—D. H. Burnham's comprehensive plan for the development of the city is complete. Aided by eleven draftsmen at his studio on the slope of Twin Peaks, Mr. Burnham has been at work on this plan for more than a year, and it will be formally presented to the municipality in the chambers of the Board of Supervisors next Wednesday at 2:30 p. m. It will be on exhibition there permanently.

In a letter to William Greer Harrison, acting president of the "Adornment Association," Mr. Burnham urges that the first improvement in his scheme which he respectfully advises should be considered is the approach to the Golden Gate Park and the Outer Boulevard, which comprises a grid of lands drawn about the city.

On the evening of next Wednesday the members of the "Adornment Association" will hold a subscription banquet at the St. Francis Hotel, at which various propositions for the betterment of the city will be discussed. Acting president Harrison will preside and Mr. McNaught will respond to the toast "The New San Francisco."

Mr. Burnham's report, explaining the scope and purpose of the plan, and pointing out as far as possible the needs of the city, will be issued in about six weeks as a municipal publication.

WOMAN'S BODY IN SUIT CASEPolice of Boston Trying to Unravel a Deep Mystery.

BOSTON, Mass., Sept. 22.—The police of Winthrop, Boston and the State are giving their combined efforts to an attempt to unravel the mystery which surrounds the crime discovered yesterday by the finding of the dismembered trunk of a woman in a dress suit case floating in the water off the Winthrop yacht club pier.

The body was removed to an undertaking establishment in this city, where an autopsy was performed by Medical Examiner Harris.

His examination strengthened the theory that the woman had been the victim of an unsuccessful surgical operation and that the dismembering of the body had been the work of skilled hands.

The police of Winthrop assert that the victim probably was not a resident of that town, as they know of no one missing.

Deputy Sheriff Neil of the State police was informed today that a man had been seen yesterday walking toward a bridge in Winthrop carrying a dress suit case which resembled that found in the water.

A good description of the man is at hand. The Deputy Sheriff advanced the opinion that the woman was not murdered, but that she had died at some Boston hospital as the result of an operation, the physician who performed the operation afterwards cutting off the head, arms and legs.

Under the circumstances, he said, the charges against the guilty man could not be murder.

The officer said that he expected an arrest soon.

RELEASED
PRISON

SACRAMENTO, Sept. 22.—Harry G. Norman, wanted in New York on a charge of forgery, and who was taken into custody yesterday, was released on habeas corpus today in the Superior Court by Judge Shields. Norman was released because it was held that the warrant was not valid because it was sworn to upon "information and belief" by a local officer.

COUNCILMAN IS MADE DEFENDANT

In an effort to collect $50 from Councilman George E. Aiken on a promissory note J. P. Muir as assignee for a West Oakland clear man has brought suit in Police Court No. 2 against Aiken for this amount. According to the statement of Aiken he endorsed a note for T. E. McGovern for $50 on which McGovern promptly defaulted and the Councilman at-large is now of the opinion that he was made a sucker of and will stand a suit to see if he is legally bound to pay the claim. Judge Samuels has taken the matter under advisement.

Delirium.

SALT LAKE, Sept. 22.—Martin Murphy of Leadville, Col., known throughout the west as a mining expert and prominent in Colorado as a politician lies in a private hospital in this city in a critical condition, suffering from thirty wounds which he inflicted upon himself with a pocket knife this morning while in a state of delirium.

Murphy had just returned from Goldfield and Bullfrog, Nev., where he had been inspecting some mining property.

His delirium is said to have followed an over indulgence in stimulants.

He became violent in his room at the Cullen Hotel and inflicted the stab wounds before the hotel attaches could overpower him.

AVERTED DEATH
OF CHILDTRAGEDY PREVENTED BY BRAVE
WOMAN IN GREEK THEATER AT BERKELEY.

That a tragedy was not enacted in the auditorium of the Greek Theater at the University of California yesterday while the audience was assembled to listen to the delightful music of W. J. McCoy in this city in the "Kamadvada," which was originally composed for the outing of the San Francisco Bohemian Club at Guerneville, is due to the presence of a lady who is well known in social circles in Oakland.

This lady who, in this instance, shall be nameless, placed in the front and immediate center of the audience with her water had been found, unprovoked, along the dizzy heights of the great state auditorium in danger at every moment of falling to its death upon the terrace to the main floor of the theater.

While the little one moved back and forth, his mother, crying and gasping with a female friend, seemingly regardless of the danger of her own life.

The auditorium, however, was full of mothers or women with the maternal instinct, and the mother of the child, who was playing, was not alone.

At length, she picked up the little one, and with a determined yet lady-like bearing, she crossed the lower part of the house and then climbed the high row of seats on which the child was playing. Her husband, who was sitting next to her, was also in the danger and on which also the mother was oblivious of her duties.

Every eye was upon the lady and when, at length, she picked up the little one, tenderly in her arms, a smile of gratitude and a sigh of relief showed a mother's heart. The strain which had affected her nerves of men and women alike, in the concert.

The lady placed the child in the hands of its mother, at the same time exclaiming:

"For humanity's sake, madame, take care of your child. The nerves of the women of this audience are unstrung. They are on the verge of panic. The mother thus rebuked, took charge of her child whose life undoubtedly had been saved by the disinterestedness of a stranger.

The heroine of the episode modestly returned to her seat amid the silent and heartfelt appreciation of every person in the auditorium.

ANDERSON IS

SHAM ATTACK ON MARE ISLAND

MARE ISLAND, Sept. 22.—A sham attack on Mare Island last night resulted in all of the torpedo-boat flotilla being discovered by searchlights and fired on by the navy. Lieutenant Loper, who was in command of the torpedo-boat, had a man on Mare Island, unknown to the navy, who could have cut the electric light wires, thus spoiling the light.

Chief of Construction W. L. Capps arrived at the navy yard today.

LONDON, Sept. 22.—There was a further hearing in the Marlborough police court today of the charge against Hugh Watt a former member of Parliament, of attempting to hire a private detective, to assist him in murdering his former wife, but little developed.

M'NAB IS AGAIN ON STANDJohnson Tries to Entangle
the San Francisco
Attorney.

SACRAMENTO, Sept. 22.—When Court convened this afternoon Gavin McNab, of San Francisco, a director of the Continental and Phoenix Building and Loan Association, was recalled to the witness stand. He said that when under cross examination last Tuesday he was asked if Tichenor's salary had been raised by the Continental after the legislative scandal came on. At the time, McNab said, he could not make a positive statement. Since then he had investigated and was prepared to say that no raise in salary had been made.

McNab, relating a conversation he had with Clarence Grange, secretary and manager of the Phoenix Building and Loan Association said Grange told him it would take a lot of money to stop an investigation of the Continental. McNab said Grange told him Jordan had stated that the senate committee on commissions and retrenchment and the San Francisco Examiner were on the trail of the Continental.

Johnson had McNab rehearse the conversation with Grange and much of the ground traversed by McNab under cross-examination last Tuesday was gone over. McNab said when Grange told him of the demand made by Jordan, as the representative of the four Senators, he suggested that if the details were left to him he would agree to catch them. McNab said further that he had not contributed a dollar to the fund provided for entrapping Emmons, Wright, Bunkers and French.

Johnson tried to entangle McNab over a variance in the testimony given by him and that given before the Senate Committee.

Before the committee McNab testified that the Examiner and Emmons had planned to harass the Continental, and then lay a trap for Dr. Washington Dodge, president of the Continental, and proceed against him for committing a felony. Johnson wanted to know why McNab had not named the Examiner in his testimony last Tuesday. Instead of saying that it was Emmons alone who was after the Continental, McNab replied that the testimony given before the investigating committee was the better, because at that time the details were fresh in his mind.

A moment later McNab added that "Emmons and the Examiner were one."

Johnson asked how he made that out, and McNab said both Emmons and the Examiner were looking for trouble.

The witness added that because he and Dodge had not bowed to the will of the Examiner in politics, and because they had not championed Wm. R. Hearst, the Examiner was after them.

Johnson asked McNab if he had a second conversation with Clarence Grange relating to trapping the Senators. The witness replied that he had.

Johnson asked why he had not testified to the second conversation before the investigating committee. McNab said he gave his testimony without the usual legal procedure of question and answer, and that under the circumstances the fact that a second conversation had escaped him.

McNab declared he knew nothing of Emmons' suit against the Continental a few years ago.

FRUIT FOR EASTERN
MARKETAlden Anderson Tells of the Record Up to Date.

SACRAMENTO, Sept. 22.—Alden Anderson, manager of the California Fruit Distributors, today said the report sent from San Francisco as to the number of cars of fresh fruit shipped East was erroneous because it did not give the full number of cars shipped, and that the figures were evidently just those of cars shipped over one road.

In speaking of the matter to a representative of the Associated Press Mr. Anderson said:

"The report sent out from San Francisco stating up to September 15, 1905, cars of green fruit had been shipped East is erroneous and misleading, inasmuch as it is several hundred cars below the actual number shipped. Up to and including September 20 there were shipped from a total of 583 cars of fresh fruit, or a figure approaching forty-five cars of the total shipments last year. There are not to go forward from 2300 to 3000 cars, a great deal depending upon the weather conditions and the selling prices."

NEW WAY TO FIGHT
A FIREFumes in Chemical Company's Place are Mastered.

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 22.—San Francisco now has a successful apparatus for fighting fire amidst the deadly fumes of a chemical factory by merely turning on a stop-cock from the outside.

The scheme worked like a charm at the works of the Stauffer Chemical Company this morning.

District Chief McCloskey is responsible for putting the fire in a glass case where his anti-fumes can be safely watched from the pure atmosphere on the outside. The Stauffer works have the record of a fire to the month for the past year, and several men have been overcome by poisonous gases during the various conflagrations. It became the regular thing for the department to be called out for one of these stubborn and dangerous blazes. Then McCloskey resorted to strategy. He devised a chemical attached to the rafters of the building in such a way that a spray could be directed on any part of the interior. Attachments were arranged outside the building for the chemical engines to connect with for there is no use for water in putting out a fire at the works. Glass doors were to be put in so that the firemen could direct their sprays from the outside. The scheme was submitted to the company and they gladly accepted it and had it installed after the last fire, which destroyed machinery costing a fortune, and nearly cost the lives of four firemen.

When all was in readiness McCloskey awaited with some complacency a test of the apparatus. It came this morning at 8 o'clock, and the fire was put out strictly according to program, and with a loss to the company of less than $1000. Nobody got even a whiff of the sulphurous fumes that filled the factory, and the new plant of machinery was not even scorched. The plan was pronounced a qualified success, and similar systems will be installed in other chemical works in the city, and eventually throughout the country.

The Stauffer Company expressed through its managers, great appreciation for the contrivance, and said that the current blaze that had been accepted as part of the business.

A sensational fire occurred this morning at the Barn of the Endicott Company, at Seventh and King streets. The barn and its contents, valued at $3000 and $10,000, were entirely destroyed. The loss is partially covered by insurance. Two animals were turned in for the fire, as it was feared that a barn next door, containing a large amount of oil, might catch.

Hoseman Frank McDermott of Engine 8 had a narrow escape during the progress of the blaze. He was working on the second floor of the building when the third floor caved in. McDermott and many jumped back just an instant before the crash came and a part of the flooring struck his helmet. Had he remained where he was a second longer, McDermott would doubtless have been killed.

CANNOT SELL GAS
OUTSIDE CITY.

CHICAGO, Sept. 22.—Commissioner of Public Works Patterson today decided that Peoples' Gas Light and Coke Company, which has practically a monopoly in Chicago, has no ordinance right to sell gas manufactured outside the city. It is alleged that gas thus obtained at 11 cents is sold to consumers here at 11.

The stork visited the home of P. T. Vinton, 222 Telegraph avenue, this morning and left a ten pound boy.

OLD MOSS
HOME TO
BE SOLDMany People Anxious to Make a Bid on the Property.

The question of whether A. Williams, the lessee of "Mosswood," the former home of Mrs. Julia T. Moss, has the right, by reason of a five-year lease and an option to purchase the property for any amount any other person would pay for it, to come up at the present time and stop the bidding up of the property, is a matter that is being threshed out before Judge Ogden this afternoon.

The property is located at Thirty-sixth street and Gough avenue. The executors are settling up the affairs of the estate and had made arrangements to sell the property to Worthington Ames for the sum of $50,000. The sale came up last week for confirmation. Then it was that Attorney Guy C. Earl, representing Williams, came in and claimed that under his lease and option he would bid the sum for the property and, while this argument was going on it appeared there were others who would bid even more than that. Finally the matter was put over until this afternoon.

Williams says that he has a right to buy the property for the amount offered by Ames and that bars any further proceedings in the matter. There are a large number of interested parties interested in the property and considerable scrambling is being done to get in a bid on it.

WANT TO CHANGE OFFICE

Merchants Protest Against New Deal at Post-office.

BERKELEY, Sept. 22.—A storm of protest has arisen among business men of Berkeley following the announcement today that a movement is on foot to change the location of the postoffice quarters.

Inspector Madden who recently examined the present quarters of the postoffice officials here, sent in a report to Washington, condemning the quarters as insufficient and inadequate for the purposes of the postoffice people.

This report is now in Washington under consideration by the First Assistant Postmaster General. It is expected that the latter official's recommendation will be that bids be advertised for from persons who are able to offer new quarters for the Berkeley postoffice.

The merchants of Center street and property-owners in that vicinity where most of the business of the town is done are very dissatisfied with the plan to take the postoffice away from the business section.

A petition is now before Congress signed by about 600 citizens of Berkeley, asking that a new postoffice building be constructed in the town. The matter is in Congressman Knowland's hands. What action may be taken by the postoffice authorities in the matter is problematical and pending the securing of an appropriation for a building temporary quarters have to be utilized.

Postmaster Schmidt said today that the Eastern building now in use is not nearly large enough. The building is cramped and its occupants are said to be constantly annoyed by the noise of the city street.

We ascribe the deaths of several of our men to the unsanitary condition of the quarters in the postoffice. Of course the quarters are absurdly inadequate for our purposes. We require more space we have here. The business of the office has grown immensely and continues to grow.

A report that the new Masonic Temple at Hancock way and Shattuck avenue would be utilized for postoffice purposes has stirred the merchants of Center street who are prepared to petition against such a move if it should be undertaken. Postmaster Schmidt said today that he did not regard the report as authentic saying that bids for new quarters must be advertised for and accepted before any move is made.

The lease of the Eastern building now in use can be terminated with three months notice on the part of the Government and it has an option on the quarters for ten years. The rent paid now is $33.33 per month.

STOMACH DISTRESS

MANY PAINFUL SYMPTOMS CAUSED BY POISONOUS CASES. Dr. Williams' Pink Pills Tone Up the Digestive Organs, Restore Nerve Force and Cure Indigestion.

When the stomach is feeble the food lies in it undigested, decays and throws off poisonous gases that distend the walls of the stomach and cause interference with other organs, especially with the action of the heart and lungs. These gases have other ill effects. They are absorbed by the blood and corrupt it and so cause general debility and nervousness. The formation of unhealthy tissue everywhere. General bodily weakness and loss of weight result. The nerves and the brain are disturbed and disordered, such as dizziness, hot flashes, sleeplessness, irritability and despondency originate from this source.

The experience of Miss Minerva C. Ladd of Ipswich, Mass., will prove helpful to many. She has just recovered from a stomach distress that made her wretched for many years.

Miss Ladd says: "I had a weak stomach from the time I was a little child. Whenever I took hearty food it would cause terrible flatulency and I would vomit what I had eaten. At times there would be the most intense pains through the upper part of my body. For days in succession, I would have to lie down the most of the time. It got up to my head and I would get dizzy that I would have to sink back on my bed and rise again very slowly. The distress was often so great that I could hardly bear it, and the frequent and violent belching was very disagreeable, too."

"For many months I had a good physician who did what he could. He told me that not only the belching, but also the pains through my body, were caused by an excess of gas in my stomach. Sometimes his medicine gave me relief, but it was only temporary. Finally, I began to lose flesh rapidly and it was thought I was going into consumption."

"At this time I read about a case similar to mine, and I had been cured through the use of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, and I got a box. Within three weeks a decided improvement was noticeable. The belching spells were less frequent, the pains through my body were no longer so intense. My food was retained and after taking the pills for a few weeks longer I found that I was altogether free from the troubles I had so long suffered."

While these pills are so effective, Dr. Williams' Pink Pills contain no harmful stimulants or opiates. They are perfectly safe and create no drug habit. Every day's use should read, "What to Eat and How to Eat," Write the Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Schenectady, N. Y., for a copy.

NO CLERGYMAN AT HER GRAVE

ARTHUR K. DAUTH SEES REMAINS OF WIFE LAID BENEATH THE SOIL.

The remains of Mrs. Anna Dauth, who after shooting her husband committed suicide last Saturday morning by cutting her throat, were interred in the family plot at Mountaineer View Cemetery yesterday. There was no clergyman present to read the last rites to the dead.

The husband, Arthur K. Dauth, with the head and hand bandaged, and Mrs. Dauth, the sister of Arthur K. Dauth, were the only persons present when the remains were laid beneath the soil. Immediately following the interment Dauth and Mrs. Anderson left for their home. The remains of the former will remain in the vault until his wounds are healed. It is stated however that Dauth will not remain in Oakland, but will take up his residence elsewhere.

PROMINENT ACTOR UNDER ARREST

PLYMOUTH, Mass. Sept. 22.—Eben Plympton, one of the best known actors and most popular matinee idols in the country, is under arrest here for an alleged murderous assault upon his close friend, Captain George Martin of New York, who has been visiting him.

Martin is now at the Massachusetts General Hospital, Boston, unconscious and in a dangerous condition. He was shot in the chest by Plympton's revolver on the morning of September 19, 1905, and is now lying in a hospital bed.

Plympton and Martin are said to have had a disagreement Saturday evening over some trivial thing at Plympton's summer home twelve miles from here. He is alleged to have dealt Martin a blow which felled him and fractured the skull. Surgeons hastily summoned failed to revive Martin and he was removed to Boston today, while Plympton was locked up. He refuses to talk.

Plympton is a native of Boston, but his stage career was begun at Stockton, Cal., in September, 1871. He is a great favorite all through the West and his career has been a most brilliant one. His latest marked hit was as Mercutio in the latest production of "Romeo and Juliet" by Kyrle Bellew and Eleanor Robinson. He is best known here as a member of the old Boston Museum Company, in brilliant comedy parts.

FIGHT PICTURES.

For the purpose of enabling people in Oakland, Alameda and Berkeley, and other parts of Alameda county, who were unable to see the recent fight at Colma between Britt and Nelson, Manager Coffroth of the Colma Athletic Club, who pulled off the fight, has decided to have the instantaneously photographed pictures of the engagement shown here before they are taken East.

John Day, the well-known sporting writer, representing Mr. Coffroth, made arrangements with this end in view with the management of the Colma Athletic Club, where the pictures will be exhibited on Saturday, September 30, and Sunday, October 1. There will be a matinee and evening presentation each day. One hour and a half will be required to present all the views of the great battle.

ROBBED OF HER JEWELS

NEW YORK, Sept. 22.—Jewels valued at several thousands of dollars, it was discovered yesterday have been stolen from the home of H. Van Rensselaer Kennedy in Hempstead, L. I.

The articles were taken within the last two or three days in the absence of the family. The jewels were taken while only two or three servants were in the house. Mrs. Kennedy did not report her loss.

WILL NOT BECOME HIS WIFE

Centerville Girl Refuses to Wed Attorney, as Planned.

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 22.—Wedding bells will not ring for I. I. Brown next Sunday, on which date he was to have married Miss Elma Judith Salz. For while he is as eager as ever to become a benedict, the lady in the case has assumed the ancient prerogative of her sex and changed her mind. She has written Brown a brief little note breaking their engagement and his pleadings to get her to change her decision are in vain. From the height of bliss, Mr. Brown has therefore tumbled to the depths of despair. His intimates no longer hear from him a tale of a rosy future. The world for him is a barren waste and he inveighs against the form of love expressed by the couplet:

"Love knoweth every form of ail
And every shape of earth."

The breaking of this engagement is a sensation in Jewish social circles. Mr. Brown is an attorney with an office in the Mills building and lives at the Marie Antoinette apartments on Van Ness avenue, and a member of the firm of Charles Brown Sons, of 807 Market street. Mr. and Mrs. Charles Brown have two children, a son and a daughter. Mr. Brown is a native of the East and arrived here from the East tomorrow, very much disconcerted over the breaking of the engagement. All arrangements had been made for a pretentious wedding affair in the parlors of the Century Club on Saturday.

LIVES AT CENTERVILLE.

Miss Salz, who has refused to marry Mr. Brown, lives with her parents across the bay at Centerville, but spends most of her time with an aunt, Mrs. S. Salz, at the Richelieu, on Van Ness avenue. It was there that she first met Mr. Brown on July 4th last.

Ten days later their engagement was announced. On Sunday, September 10th, at the Richelieu, Brown and his fiancée prepared and mailed invitations to their wedding. Two or three days ago while at Centerville, one of her brothers noticed that Miss Salz looked worried. He asked her what was the matter. She is said to have broken down and cried. Composing herself she finally said:

"I do not want to marry Mr. Brown."

"Well, Elma, you do not have to if you do not want to," promptly and decisively replied her brother.

A family consultation was held and she was instructed to write Mr. Brown a note breaking the engagement. Furthermore over the signatures of her father, notes were sent out to the guests recalling all the invitations.

The wording of the note to Mr. Brown is known only to a few, but one who knows its contents says it expresses this sentiment:

NOTE TO LOVER.

"I have tried to love you and for awhile I thought I did. I find I am awfully mistaken, and that I can never love you. The words must seem cruel. My motive is not cruel. It is best to have the truth come out before we both make an irremediable mistake. This must end all between us and we must never meet again."

Whether there is any reason other than that given in the note which would explain that epistle, it is hard to say.

Miss Salz is a pretty Jewess of the demi-blonde type, young, charming, and a dresser of rare good taste. Mr. Brown's father and mother gave her a diamond ring and a necklace valued at $1000. These she has returned.

Many other presents were also received by these, who have been sent back to those who gave them. In her Centerville home, Miss Salz has an elaborate trousseau that any young woman about to be married might be proud of. It has been put out of sight.

So confident was Mr. Brown up to a few days ago that he had won a prize in the matrimonial market that he bought railroad tickets and a Pullman drawing-room for a honeymoon trip to Chicago and New York, starting on Monday. This trip, of course, has now been canceled. Brown was also in receipt of a number of costly presents. One of these was from his wealthiest client, the widow of the late capitalist, "Duckett" Rosenbaum, who was left an estate of about $500,000 and which Brown settled up for her.

BATTLE FOR LIFE WITH ANGRY BEAR

UKIAH, Sept. 22.—Ernest Osborn and Bud Arnold of Comanche report one of the closest calls of the season in a bear fight. For some time a large bear has been bothering their stock and they had made several ineffectual attempts to find him. He could not be located until they started out and got the track on Big River near the Horse Opening.

While they were waiting for the hounds and sitting comfortably on a log, something appeared behind them and knocked Osborn out of his hands. Before he had recovered from his surprise he was engaged in a hand to hand encounter with the bear, which had doubled on the dogs and come back on the hunters.

One blow of the bear's paw broke the gun in two and bent the barrel. The fight was so fierce that Arnold had to wait several minutes before he dared to risk a shot, for fear of killing his companion. Osborn finally begged him to shoot anyway, as he said he would rather be shot than killed by a bear.

Fortunately Arnold was able to hit the bear, the bullet just grazing Osborn's arm, and the combatants rolled over on the ground. The bear was one of the biggest ever killed in that section.

DECISION AGAINST WESTERN UNION

ST. PAUL, Minn., Sept. 22.—The State Supreme Court decided in favor of the state today in the suit of the State of Minnesota against the Western Union Telegraph Company.

It was a suit to collect taxes on a valuation of the company's property in the amount of $1,000,000. This valuation is based on an assessment upon the company's franchise.

REDUCES SCHOOL MONEY

Opinion Lessens Revenue Granted Districts by the State.

An opinion just handed down by the Attorney General in regard to the listing of kindergarten pupils in the schools, is now being called to the attention of school principals by Thomas J. Kirk, State Superintendent of Schools, and will make a considerable reduction in the average daily attendance in districts where such classes are maintained, and will also reduce the revenue granted the districts by the State.

The excerpt quoted from the opinion of the Attorney General on this subject is as follows:

"It was evidently intended by the Legislature in using the words 'average daily attendance' to include therein only census children between the ages of five and seventeen years of age, for the school census is the basis of the apportionment of State school money."

"In apportioning such moneys, therefore, I am of the opinion that it is proper for you to estimate the average daily attendance in kindergarten schools, where such schools have been adopted into the primary system, the same as is done in regular primary and grammar schools, but in estimating such average daily attendance only children between the ages of five and seventeen years attending such kindergarten schools should be counted."

Upon this opinion Superintendent Kirk in his letter says:

"The average daily attendance of all children between the ages of five and seventeen years during the time they were in kindergarten schools or classes for the school years beginning July 1, 1904, and ending June 30, 1905, may be counted in the next apportionment of State school money. In pursuance of this opinion, Superintendents will direct the principals of all kindergarten schools or classes under their jurisdiction to make reports for the school years ending June 30, 1905, of the children over five years of age and under seventeen years of age, that attended such schools or classes during the said school year. The attendance of children in such kindergarten schools or classes is to be counted after they become five years of age, not before."

It has been the practice heretofore to list every pupil in attendance in the kindergarten classes, regardless of their age, many being under the five-year limit, and hereafter none of these may be counted in making up the average daily attendance of the classes. Just how much difference this will make in the schools where such classes are maintained is not known, but it is

MEN MORE ACCURATE THAN WOMEN

ELGIN, Ill. Sept. 22.—A movement to do away with night-priced labor by women is said to have been undertaken by the Elgin National Watch Company.

During the last six months it has been noticed that when women leave or are discharged their places have been taken by men. In 1893 the company hired women on a large scale, driving men from positions they had held for years until now the ratio is almost three to one in favor of women. Experience has taught the company that men are more accurate than women, and they will do more work in a day.

In view of that fact the company has decided to adopt the policy of giving the best places to men and the cheaper work to women.

EARTHQUAKE KILLS 589, INJURES 2,020

Horrible Disasters Visited Upon the People in Calabria, Doing Great Damage.

NEW YORK, Sept. 22.—Earthquake shocks continued yesterday in Calabria, says a Rome despatch to the Herald. At Amantea two women were killed. At Ajello many houses fell and twelve persons were injured.

At Bruzio a church fell and there was further damage at Cosenza, Catanzaro and Monteleone.

There was a cloudburst at Bari, the wind capsizing a sailing vessel in the harbor and six persons were drowned.

At Portici, near Naples, there was another cloudburst and the floods of water brought into the town many large blocks of lava from Vesuvius. Service of the street cars was interrupted.

It is not believed that there are many more victims in the ruins. At Zambrone a man has just been taken out alive, after being entombed eleven days.

General Lambertini has made an official list of the damage by the earthquake. He finds that 215 towns and villages suffered great losses, the dead number 589 and the injured 2,020.

At a meeting of the Ministers, at which the Mayor of Rome and the president of the Bank of Italy were present, it was decided to hasten the distribution of relief as rapidly as possible. All the persons in Calabria have been notified to place all relief contributions at the disposal of the Central Committee from Rome. The uniting under one head of these contributions is necessary to avoid the distribution of an excess in some localities leaving others with a deficiency.

BELIEVE KING-EMPEROR WILL FAVOR COMPROMISE PROPOSALS.

BUDAPEST, Hungary, Sept. 22.—The audience which the coalition leaders will have with the King-Emperor tomorrow is regarded most hopefully and there is widespread expectation that the compromise proposals which will be submitted by Count Julius Andrássy, Francis Kossuth, Baron Banffy and Count Zichy will lead to a settlement enabling the formation of a ministry and the restoration of administrative order.

The coalitionists appear prepared to demonstrate to the King-Emperor their strong desire to meet the views of the crown on the army question by confining their demands to a general proposition for the development of the Hungarian army in connection with the national spirit without insisting on the use of the Hungarian as the language of command.

FOR PROTECTION OF FRUIT INDUSTRY

KANSAS CITY, Sept. 22.—The American Entomological Society, in biennial convention last night resolved to urge all congressmen to use their influence to secure the passage of legislation looking to the reduction of insect and refrigerator charges for the shipment of fruit.

This action was taken following the reading of a report by A. H. Kirkpatrick of Michigan, chairman of the committee on resolutions who stated that the fruit industry was being ruined by the refrigerator companies, which charge the grower an excessive price for long cars.

EXPLOSION NEAR GOVERNOR'S HOUSE

HELSINGFORS, Finland, Sept. 22.—A large increase in the number of Russian troops in Finland is expected soon about 4500. It is said, will be sent to Vasa. The troops will be quartered in private houses.

An explosion near the residence of the Governor of Vasa yesterday created a commotion but no damage is reported beyond the shattering of the windows of a neighboring house.

AWAITS RESULT.

CONSTANTINOPLE, Sept. 22.—Minister Leishman is awaiting the result of Consul General Dickinson's inquiry into the naturalization of Vartanian and Afarian before taking further steps. In the course of his examination Vartanian admitted to Mr. Dickinson that he had been dispatched by the revolutionary committee to murder Apik Undjian, a prominent Armenian, who was shot and killed August 26 in the Galata quarter of this city, and added that Afarian was his accomplice.

JURY DECIDES THAT HE DID NOT EMBEZZLE MONEY.

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 22.—After five hours' deliberation the jury in the case of Julio Zegner Urburu, charged with embezzling many francs belonging to Signola Tetraxini, the sweet-voiced Tivoli prima donna, rendered a verdict of acquittal. The discarded secretary did not seem to be much interested in his fate. The look of tired disgust that has been on his face since his arrest did not change during the five-hour wait. He is still held on a second count of felony embezzlement.

Attorney Perry in his closing argument compared Urburu to Don Jose, the "easy mark" in the opera "Carmen," and demonstrated in rapid and convincing manner the weakness of the case against Urburu.

Urburu's successor to the friendship of the silver-voiced diva, was Escamilla. It was the story of Carmen, all but the dagger scene. Whether this up-to-date version of Bizet's opera was to end tragically was for the jury to decide.

Tetraxini was castigated for her fickleness by Perry. She was called the "silly and the young man from his home" and "that false woman" and mentioned by many other disparaging terms. Zegner Urburu left everything to follow her, only to be cast aside for another.

ASSISTANT DISTRICT ATTORNEY FERRAL was equally hard upon Urburu. "He calls himself a diplomat," sneered Ferral. "Why, the man never earned a dollar in his life." Ferral also scoffed at Urburu's alleged honorable lineage.

The time with which Urburu was charged was the embezzlement of about $300, American money, which was entrusted to him by Tetraxini to pay a dressmaker's bill in Milan. He was taken to the County Jail immediately after the verdict was announced to await on another charge of the same nature.

STANDARD OIL CO. ADVANCES PRICES

PITTSBURGH, Sept. 22.—The Standard Oil Company advanced the price of Pennsylvania oil ten cents and Tiona oil five cents. Within two weeks Pennsylvania oil has advanced 19 cents and Tiona 14 cents. The other grades of oil are not changed. The quotations follow:

Pennsylvania $1.46; Tiona $1.56; Corning $1.03, New Castle $1.28; Cabal $1.11, North Lima $2c; South Lima $1.08 and Indian 87c; Somerset $1c and Raglan 94c.

ARE INVESTIGATING RECENT RIOTING

TOKIO, Sept. 22.—Eleven prosecutors and five judges of the Preliminary Court with secretaries and policemen made visits to the Niroku Sumibun and the residences of its editors today. It is believed that the action taken was in connection with the recent rioting.

PEOPLE OF RICHMOND WILL ENDEAVOR TO FORM A UNITED CITY.

POINT RICHMOND, Sept. 22.—It is more than likely that the proposition for annexing all outside territory to the town of Richmond will be submitted to a vote of the people by the Board of Trustees at their meeting next Monday night. If the proposition receives a majority of the votes cast inside the lines, and also a majority of those in the proposed annexed territory it will have carried, and will become effective. Should it fail of a majority either in or outside of the grounds, it falls to the ground. To be entitled to vote you must be registered. On the East Side Dr. Riley and T. E. Marshall are registering officers. Dr. Riley can be found at his office at nearly all hours. Mr. Marshall has consented to have his books at the Acheson post office every evening.

On the West Side R. G. Slitt is the registering officer.

FORM NEW LODGE.

A Degree of Honor with sixty charter members was instituted at A. O. U. W. Hall on Macdonald Avenue on Tuesday evening. This is the ladies' auxiliary to the Ancient Order of United Workmen, and the members of that order turned out in force to take part in the ceremonies.

After the new lodge was instituted the members of the local lodge and their visitors sat down to a banquet and passed a pleasant hour in discussing the several courses.

Silver Star Lodge of Oakland came up in a body to confer the degree, and there were also many distinguished visitors present, among them being Past Grand Master Danforth of San Francisco, Mrs. Cordelia Albin of Fresno, Mrs. C. T. Spencer, Grand Inside Guard Malloy, Grand Recorder Booth and Miss Miller of San Francisco.

GORILLA LIVED AND DIED LIKE A MAN

NEW YORK, Sept. 22.—Once more has the management of the Bronx Zoological Park been disappointed in its efforts to import a live gorilla, the much heralded one which had been obtained in the Congo region and shipped by the steamship Graf Waldersee during the voyage to New York.

Dr. Cecil French obtained the specimen from a party of Englishmen who had captured the gorilla on an exploring expedition to that region of the Dark Continent which lies between the Gaboon and the Congo. He said he had high hopes of bringing the animal here alive. That would have been a conspicuous triumph for the Zoological Society which he represents, as only seven specimens have been taken out of Africa alive and all of these died after a short period of captivity.

The animal cost $100 and was insured by a London firm which makes a business of insuring animals. Dr. French took the utmost care of his hostage, engaged a stateroom in the second cabin of the Graf Waldersee; hung thermometers about it and arranged that the room be kept at the same temperature throughout the voyage. But despite his care the gorilla became ill, grew worse day by day and finally died of tuberculosis, as an autopsy showed.

Are free from all crude and irritating matter. Concentrated medicine only. Carter's Little Liver Pills. Very small, very easy to take, no pain; no griping; no purging. Try them.

OAKLAND TRIBUNE

W. E. DARGIE, President.
Business Office and Publishing House, 413-417 Eighth Street, Oakland.

The Joplin, Missouri, Argument

Our Stockton contemporary, the Independent, finds it hard to budge away from a misstatement, as this paragraph proves:

"How does THE TRIBUNE expect to give students 'practical training by object lessons in scientific agriculture, horticulture and irrigation' in a locality where neither the soil nor climate are adapted to general agriculture as followed in California? The irrigation of the Berkeley hills is by the ocean fogs which the stiff breeze carries across the bay."

So far as we know, no one has ever advocated locating the University farm in the Berkeley hills. The constant iteration of the statement that there is a scheme to locate the farm immediately at the town of Berkeley indicates a purpose to mislead. Around Hayward, in Alameda county, is a district pre-eminent for horticulture and intensive agriculture, where irrigation is extensively practiced. On Walnut Creek in Contra Costa County, not a dozen miles from the University gates, there is an extensive district adapted to the growth of every fruit and cereal cultivated in California. Here is water for irrigation and lands admirably adapted to irrigation. It is less than two hours drive of the University, while Hayward can be reached by electric car in fifty minutes for a fare of 25 cents.

The Independent does not deny that the purpose behind the scheme to locate the farm at a great distance from Berkeley is to separate the Agricultural College from the State University, but on the contrary, makes an argument that such a course is advisable. It cites the fact that the School of Mines of the Missouri University is located at Joplin, two hundred miles away from Columbia. The location was decided by the proximity of lead and zinc mines. But who hears of the graduates of the Missouri School of Mines in the scientific world? The graduates of the California School of Mines are famous the world over. The School of Mines is located in Berkeley, and soon will be housed, thanks to the munificence of Mrs. Phebe A. Hearst, in the finest building of its kind on the continent.

The School of Mines of Columbia University is celebrated for the attainments and technical skill of its graduates. There are no mines in New York City. The same is true of Harvard, Yale, Cornell and other institutions of the highest rank.

In the light of these facts, the Stockton paper's citation of the Missouri instance is peculiarly unfortunate. Its belittlement of the agricultural course at Cornell is a case of kicking at the pricks. The excellence of Cornell in this particular is of the first order. The Independent is inconsistent in refusing to consider Missouri's example in locating her School of Agriculture alongside the other departments of the State University and pointing out the separation of the School of Mines as an example to be followed. The Missouri College of Agriculture is notably efficient. The Missouri School of Mines is not, and is only of local importance.

When a committee of Southern educators went North recently to study advanced methods of higher education in State institutions, the University of Wisconsin was selected as a model because all the branches of higher education were there consolidated and brought together under one management. And the University of Wisconsin is given first rank by the Agricultural Department for the thoroughness and comprehensiveness of its schooling and training in scientific agriculture. When these facts are mentioned papers like the Stockton Independent say go to Texas or Joplin, Missouri. This reminds us of what Phil Sheridan said. Our Stockton contemporary seems a trifle affected by its proximity to another State institution.

Boston's title of "The Hub" is based upon the New England claim that she is the literary center of the United States. The postal statistics do not bear out this claim, however. The receipts of the Chicago postoffice are within a fraction of three times the receipts of the Boston postoffice. Chicago has a trifle more than three times the population of Boston, but the comparative statistics supplied by the Government show that the postal receipts at Chicago and New York are growing relatively faster than those of the New England metropolis. This is a plain indication of a decline in the publishing business of Boston. Literary activity is going westward, and if trade follows the flag the book publishing business follows trade. Boston is still the fourth city of the United States in volume of postal receipts, not counting Brooklyn, but relatively its importance is diminishing.

An interior paper says vaccination kills more people than smallpox. The statement is grotesquely untrue, but if it were true the condition would be due to the efficiency of vaccination in eradicating smallpox. If the deaths from smallpox in a country where vaccination is not practiced be compared with the deaths from vaccination in some country where it is practiced the absurdity of the assertion quoted will be abundantly disclosed. If we compare the deaths from smallpox in a country where vaccination is the rule with the smallpox deaths in a country where it is not practiced a still more striking proof will be presented that vaccination is the greatest boon medical surgery has furnished mankind in two centuries. While vaccination has not entirely eradicated smallpox in civilized countries because of stupid opposition and neglect to enforce it, it has nearly done so and has so modified its character as to render it comparatively harmless. By a curious inversion of the syllogism illogical minds point to the results of vaccination as a proof of its ineffectiveness.

Another Blow to Financial Piracy

The conviction of four officers of one of the firms composing the dressed meat combine is a body blow to the rebate evil. It is noteworthy that the defendants were glad to get off with the payment of heavy fines. Here is another proof that the Interstate Commerce law can be enforced. An equally vigorous enforcement of the anti-trust law will come very near eliminating the abuses and tyranny which have of late years been oppressing American commercial and industrial activities. The alliance of favored interests with the transportation agencies has been the chief instrument in the destruction of competition and the building up of monopolies, a work that has been partially completed by trust combinations and secret community-of-interest agreements between nominally competitive concerns. The rebate system which gives its beneficiaries lower rates than those exacted from other shippers, who also receive special transportation facilities not accorded to others, is the natural ally of trust combination. On the other hand, trust combinations favor the creation of great transportation monopolies by throwing all freight carriage into the hands of groups of men controlling certain railway systems. By knocking out the rebate system and breaking up the combines in illegal restraint of trade, the American people will be freed from the exactions practiced on them by organized bands of financial pirates. That is what President Roosevelt aims to do, and that is what his policy of vigorous enforcement of existing laws is accomplishing.

On the eve of his departure for a year's absence in foreign travel Mr. Bryan advises Democrats not to bother themselves for a long time yet about the selection of a Presidential candidate for 1908. Mr. Bryan will probably attend to that detail personally on his return. It is perhaps natural that he should object to any selection made during his absence. But what does it matter what lamb is selected for the slaughter?

The Goebel-Jordan Dispute

President Jordan emphatically denies that he ever suggested to Professor Julius Goebel that he retract the criticisms passed by the latter on President Roosevelt's book, "The Winning of the West." This raises a square issue of veracity. President Jordan says he knew nothing about the criticisms and cares nothing about them. He declares that he never spoke to Professor Goebel on the subject. Until evidence is submitted to corroborate the charge of attempting to influence Professor Goebel, President Jordan's denial is entitled to credence. His word is as good as Professor Goebel's. Furthermore, his disclaimer is so sweeping and explicit that no unsupported individual assertion can stand against it. While President Jordan did not act with entire frankness in the Ross matter and played a rather sharp game with Professor Goebel, he is not to be adjudged guilty of gross downright lying without definite and conclusive proof. And it must be remembered in this connection that the charge respecting the criticisms on President Roosevelt's book is new matter. Nothing was heard of it in the original passage of arms over Professor Goebel's dismissal. The question of academic freedom was not raised at that time, and only became involved when it was asserted that President Jordan tried to induce Professor Goebel to retract his criticisms or apologize for them and sought to oust the professor for refusing to be influenced. While it looked as if Professor Goebel had not been treated quite fairly, his case, as presented at the time, did not challenge public attention by a traverse of university ethics. The supplementary charge giving a new complexion to Professor Goebel's expulsion from Stanford appears to have come from Professor Goebel himself, as it was originally made in German publications which espoused his cause. It cannot be substantiated by proof aside from Professor Goebel's unsupported statement, it can have little force, nor should it have, in the face of Professor Jordan's emphatic denial. The President of Stanford is as much entitled to fair play as anybody else, and the obvious animus behind the charge should cause it to be received with caution. It does not warrant credence unless better established. It will be unfortunate if such a charge, after being circumstantially made, shall be left an undecided issue of personal veracity between the two men, for it involves grave moral turpitude on the part of one or the other. Somebody has lied tremendously, and it is left to partisanship to decide who.

An Indiana paper prints a long argument to prove that Vice-President Fairbanks is a "Presidential quantity." It says nothing, however, about quality, and quality is what counts.

The Canadian authorities have given another evidence of their peculiar partiality for American fugitives from justice. The cases of Greene and Gaylor and of Bigamist Collins have been followed by that of Alex McLean, captain of the Corsair rover Carmencita, who is wanted in California for repeated violations of the law. The Canadians regard McLean, however, with a good deal of the admiration they have bestowed on Collins, and the hope of getting him back for trial is rather slim. The Collins case bids fair to drag along till the circumstances of his crime are forgotten. Our Canadian neighbors scoff at Yankee courts and Yankee justice, but if there is anything in jurisprudence ranker than the Canuck article it has escaped our notice.

The esteemed Herald of that city says it took Los Angeles only thirty days to settle the water question. My, but it didn't take long to lay that 210 miles of pipe line from Owens river into Los Angeles. We had an idea that the scheme had not been financed as yet or the question of water rights adjusted. But if everything has been settled, we have been laboring under a mistake. But perhaps the Herald regards raising twenty-five or thirty millions and laying 210 miles of five foot steel mains only minor matters of detail. Still the water won't come till these details are completed. And there are other details.

WATER BY THE BOTTLE.

Down in Los Angeles they sell "pure" water by the bottle. No wonder the southern city wants to grab the water of Owens river. The saloon men in Los Angeles, they say, are getting rich, yet the people there must have water to bathe in, and when they do want a drink of the fluid they do not care to have to take it out of a bottle. It is so significant.—Bakersfield Californian.

FRENZIED NEATNESS.

There's the woman whose house is so tidy and prim,
Of dirt no suggestion or trace;
You feel quite instinctively sorry for "him"—
The man who's attached to the place.
You call unannounced; she at once has a fit,
Though really it gives her delight.
"Had I known you were coming we'd tidied a bit,"
She says, "for the place is a fright."

No sign of disorder that you can discern,
No rooms that are slightly awry;
It gives her, she murmurs, the greatest concern
That things are not fixed apple pie.
However, she says, if you can feel at ease
And manage to push past the grime,
You're welcome, oh, very, but overlook, please,
Her wretched housekeeping this time.

You glance all around, but you can't see a sign
Of what she is talking about,
The house looks as fresh as a picture and fine,
With all of the dirt put to rout.
Of course you assure her at once to your mind
Things look very neat and all right,
And she in reply says she's sure it is kind,
Although she insists it's a fright.

THE NEW GIRL.

She was very red of features
And we didn't know her name,
Yet with rapture wild we hailed her
When the New Girl came.

She was rather shy on cooking
And she couldn't iron a shirt,
And she spoke a foreign language
In a way extremely pert.

Not a reference she gave us,
Naught of sweeping could she do,
And she sat up with admirers
Till the clock was striking two.

Yet you'll understand our feelings
And the rapture of the same,
For we had a little daughter
When the New Girl came.

—New York Times.

QUEER BITS OF HISTORY.

In English statutes of the sixteenth century the punishment set down for the crime of murdering by poison was boiling alive, and a girl was actually executed in that ghastly fashion. In 1588 Father Stone of Canterbury suffered the same death. A curious account is in existence which gives the amount paid for two men who set the kettle and boiled him, and "to the women that scoured the kettle." The sentence was not always carried out with such ferocity, for culprits were sometimes hanged before being boiled. In one case it is recorded that a man was first hanged, then boiled and then quartered.

Contrary to the general opinion in Mexico and abroad, President Diaz is not a multi-millionaire. Intimate friends of the Mexican executive declare that his fortune does not exceed $1,000,000. He owns a plantation property in the capital and a house in Paris. The salary of President Diaz is now $50,000 a year. He is serving his twenty-fifth year as president of Mexico. The jewels of Mme. Diaz are worth double the fortune of her husband.

A German inventor has patented an automatic billiard table. The scheme is on the nickel-in-the-slot plan. One drops a nickel in the receptacle and billiard balls are produced from hidden pockets. At the end of a quarter of an hour they automatically return to their pockets. There is no need here for a man to look after the table, and there is no opportunity for the players to defraud its owner.

BREVITIES.

In the atelier of Adolph Bouguereau the great French painter who died recently, there hung two terrible pictures. One represented a man dying in the desert, with the frightful form of the angel of death descending upon him. The other depicted Dante and Virgil in hell watching one victim madly gnawing at the foot of another. The two pictures failed because of their horror. "If I had stuck to such subjects as those," the artist used to say, "I would have starved long ago." He found a market for the beautiful.

GOVERNOR BELIEVES IN NATIONAL GUARD

Thinks Young Men of the Country Should be Taught Discipline.

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 22.—This address was to have been delivered by Governor Pardee at the flag presentation in San Francisco on Thursday evening, Sept. 21st. On account of the sudden indisposition of Mrs. Pardee, the Governor could not leave Sacramento, and the address was therefore read by Adjutant General Lauck:

"Reverend and Colonel:—Several months ago I had the signal honor, and the great pleasure to receive from your hands, for deposit among the cherished relics of our State, the colors borne by your regiment during the Spanish-American war. The scene at the State Capitol when you gave into my hands that battle-worn flag will never fade from my memory. Reverend Father, I see now in my mind's eye your face full of emotion as you spoke of the devotion to Flag and Country of the men of the First California. I hear again the earnest tones of your quivering voice as you detailed their many sacrifices in their country's service. Colonel, I see you standing on the rostrum, hear your voice as you in the name of your regiment, gave into the custody of the State the colors you and your men so gallantly followed in the land across the great Pacific.

"I realized then and I realize now, the great sacrifice you, Reverend Father, you, Colonel, and you, officers and men of the First California, made, when accompanied by its guard of honor you parted from the flag that had seen you in victory in California. I hear again the earnest tones of your quivering voice as you detailed their many sacrifices in their country's service. Colonel, I see you standing on the rostrum, hear your voice as you in the name of your regiment, gave into the custody of the State the colors you and your men so gallantly followed in the land across the great Pacific.

BOY SHOTS MAN; NEARLY LYNCHED BY CROWD

Lad of 17 Years Held Mob of 1,000 at Bay With a Loaded Revolver.

NEW YORK, Sept. 22.—John Reid, 17 years old, fatally shot one man and held at bay a crowd of about 1,000 persons and when captured by a policeman narrowly escaped being killed by a mob which clamored for his life at an amusement park last night.

When the lad, who the police say had been drinking and wanted to enter the park, the employees refused to admit him. Drawing a revolver and aimed at them and every one got out of range.

The ensuing commotion caused a large crowd to gather and Reid started to run away.

After running several blocks he turned and pulled the trigger, but the cartridge failed to explode.

The crowd decided to disarm the lad by concentrated rush and as it swept forward Reid leveled his pistol and fired.

The bullet struck John Wilkinson in the groin. It was said he probably would die when it was taken to a hospital.

When the crowd saw Wilkinson wounded it fell back and no further attempts were made to capture Reid until Policeman Fay arrived. Fay hurried himself, even armed on the boy, upsetting him, and then wrested the pistol from him.

As the policeman started for the station the crowd made a determined attempt to get at the prisoner. Fay was compelled to beat several persons to drive his prisoner from the throng and when rescuers arrived he was almost exhausted.

Angst scope for one of the finest, sweetest and most moving bits of drama seen on Broadway in many a day. She struck, in fact, the first note of vital human emotion in the season, hitherto given over to comedy so light that much of it has already taken flight and she warmed the audience, at first inclined to be critical, into a burst of tumultuous applause.

In the course of Miller's curtain speech he took occasion to dissent from the opinion of "gentlemen" who long outlived his usefulness in connection with theatrical booking, that there is no place in the metropolis for Miss Anglin.

There were strong indications last night that the theater-going public will agree with Miller on this point.

MEN OF ACCOUNTS PLAN A MEETING.

A meeting of the Oakland Association of Accountants and Bookkeepers will take place Tuesday evening, September 26, at 8 p. m. in rooms 45 and 46 of the Blake Block, corner Twelfth and Washington streets.

William J. Arlett, bookkeeper for the Sunset Grocery Company, will address the meeting on the subject of "Office Management of a Retail Grocery Business."

All are invited. If you are a member, you know your place. If you are not, this notice is an invitation to attend.

NEW YORK, September 22.—Henry Miller made his debut on Broadway at the Princess Theater last night as an actor-manager, presenting "Zaza," a play by Miller and J. Harlan.

"Zaza," a play by Miller and J. Harlan, is founded on the plot of "The Girl in the Red Velvet Gown," which once served as a vehicle for the emotional acting of Clara Morris.

Miller's play is said to be an unqualified triple success. The Sun will say:

"Zaza" bids fair to hold the boards of the Princess for many a day. The great scene of the third act gave Miss Anglin scope for one of the finest, sweetest and most moving bits of drama seen on Broadway in many a day. She struck, in fact, the first note of vital human emotion in the season, hitherto given over to comedy so light that much of it has already taken flight and she warmed the audience, at first inclined to be critical, into a burst of tumultuous applause.

COMMEMORATE GIFT OF GREAT LIBRARY

Speakers at University Meeting To-day Discuss Donation of John D. Spreckels.

BERKELEY, Sept. 22.—A University meeting in commemoration of the gift of the Weinholt Library to the University by Mr. John D. Spreckels was held in the Harmon Gymnasium today at 11 a. m. The speakers were Dr. Hugo Karl Schilling and John McNaught, managing editor of the San Francisco Call. All other University exercises were suspended during this hour.

The Weinholt Library was purchased for the sum of $7000. Mr. Spreckels not only furnished the sum with which to purchase the library but also defrayed the expense of its transportation to the University. The total number of volumes in the library is 6166, and of pamphlets 2270. The acquisition of this splendid collection makes the German department of the State University one of the best equipped in the country.

The library of Karl Weinholt, who was Professor of German Philology in the University of Berlin, has been installed in the University Library. Many members and friends of the University accepted the invitation to view the collection in the Seminar Room of the Bacon Library building from 9 to 11 a. m.

Professor of the German language and literature, was at the library to show the treasures of the collection to all who were interested.

ROBERT VINCENT RETURNS FROM NORTHERN TRIP.

Robert Vincent, the well known Washington street butcher, has just returned from a six weeks' trip to Alaska and Oregon. Mr. Vincent was accompanied by his wife and daughter. During their absence they visited the Portland Fair, Seattle and various points of interest in Alaska, including Lake Bennett, Sitka and Skagway, going up the Yukon River for a distance of 2,790 miles. Mr. Vincent admired the Portland Fair, and was much impressed with the California exhibit, which he says is one of the most attractive on the grounds. A most unusual thing was experienced at Sitka, the weather being so mild, that it was necessary to get ice from Seattle. Ice is supposed to be in abundance the year around at Sitka.

FROM EUREKA TO WILL START NEW BANK

CONSOLIDATION OF TWO ROADS IS A SETTLED FACT.

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 22.—Santa Fe officials when questioned yesterday regarding the rumor that their company intended extending the system to Portland, stated that there was no truth in such reports, and claimed that they were based upon the fact that there was at the present time considerable activity around their properties near Eureka. The important announcement was then made by officials of the company that the line which now extends from Eureka to Fortuna will be extended to Willits and will there consolidate with the California Northwestern. This will do away with the necessity of paralleling the California Northwestern to the bay, as was the original intention when the San Francisco and Northwestern Company was incorporated by Santa Fe officials early in 1903.

Chief Engineer Bissell of the Santa Fe is now on his way to Eureka from the East, and it is understood that he will make a thorough survey of the country between Eureka and Willits. The purpose of his trip is to determine the feasibility of the work of construction as speedily as possible.

Ever since the incorporation of the Santa Fe and Northwestern Railroad in 1903 it has been a question if the road would consolidate with the California Northwestern and Northwestern line, the latter company's system. This is the first definite announcement that the consolidation will be effected. Although there have been many rumors regarding it during the past two years, the consolidation will not result in the absorbing of the California Northwestern line by the Santa Fe.

The present line from Eureka to Fortuna is only about thirty-seven miles long. It will now be extended to Willits, and will draw lumber from a quarry at Eureka. The extension of the line to Willits will be a great saving of money to the Santa Fe road, as the construction of a line from Willits to San Francisco would call for an outlay of at least $1,000,000.

No idea can be given at present regarding the probable date when the consolidation will be effected. It will be possible to take a through trip to Eureka from Oakland. Chief Engineer Bissell will probably have a report to present to the Santa Fe officials at the close of his tour of inspection, which will, no doubt, be made public and will definitely settle the matter.

MORE BIG SHIPS IN NAVY

ADMIRAL DEWEY DRAWS SOME LESSONS FROM THE RECENT WAR.

NEW YORK, Sept. 20.—A special to the Herald from Washington says: Admiral Dewey, who has just returned from a summer spent in Hot Springs, Va., talked today upon the conclusion of peace between Russia and Japan and the lessons taught by the war to the American Navy. He said: "The lessons of the war are more big ships, more big guns, and good snootings. The American Navy needs more than anything else, battleships of 18,000 tons, carrying twelve-inch guns, with a few three-pounders for defense against torpedo-boat attacks. It is the big ships, such as the English are building, and big guns that decide the battle. Then you must keep your men constantly in practice in shooting. "I believe it an excellent thing that Japan failed to obtain cash indemnity. I mean, it was an excellent thing for her as well as for the rest of the powers. You know we have an interest in the Orient greater than that of any power on earth. If Japan obtained a cash indemnity, she probably would devote it to increasing her naval power and would become too heavy in that respect. Now she will build up on solid lines, economize, in order to make her resources meet her war expenses, and in that way, she will be far better off." Admiral Dewey explained that he meant the balance of power in the Orient was still undisturbed, even by Japan's great victories.

WOMAN'S VISITORS STEAL DIAMONDS

SANTA ROSA, Sept. 22.—Mrs. Gus Dahlmeier of this city had an exciting adventure yesterday afternoon with two fashionably dressed women who drove to her home on Sebastopol avenue, in a rubber-tired car. The visitors announced that they were Mrs. Mitchell and Mrs. Anderson, new neighbors, and had simply called to make a visit. While Mrs. Dahlmeier was absent from the parlor temporarily, her guests stole three diamonds and opal rings and a point lace handkerchief from the piano. When the lady of the house returned and failed to find her jewelry where she left it, she excused herself and secured a pistol. On entering the parlor, Mrs. Dahlmeier covered her visitors with the revolver and announced that she would blow off their heads unless her rings were produced. After the women had gone, Mrs. Dahlmeier grew hysterical and fainted. She is able to give good descriptions of her callers, and it is believed they will be apprehended.

ACCUSED ROBBER TRIES TO ESCAPE

MOUNT HOLLY, N. J., Sept. 22.—Charles Nichols, claiming to be a resident of California and charged with burglary, made an attempt to escape while in charge of a consable. Getting off a trolley car in front of the jail, he made a break for liberty. The consable fired at him, but missed. Two other consables and a deputy sheriff joined in the chase, and Nichols was finally overtaken and captured. He is regarded as a desperate prisoner and occupies a cell in murderers' row, where he has been put on bread and water. He is accused of robbing the store of Herman Hanemann, at Delanco.

ENTERTAINS AT COUNTRY CLUB

MRS. PHILIP BOWLES IS HOSTESS AT A LUNCHEON TODAY.

Mrs. Philip Bowles entertained today at an elaborate luncheon given at the Country Club in honor of Mrs. Victor H. Metcalf and Miss Nellie Chabot. The tables were beautifully decorated with pink tiger lilies and a score of guests enjoyed the affair. Those present were Mrs. Metcalf, Miss Chabot, Mrs. H. M. A. Miller, Mrs. F. B. McNear, Mrs. C. O. G. Miller, Miss Annie Miller, Mrs. A. L. Stone, Mrs. J. H. Nicholson, Mrs. G. W. McNear, Mrs. McNear Jr., Miss Bessie McNear, Mrs. C. M. Cooper, Miss Florine Brown, Mrs. Lillian Everts, Mrs. H. H. Sherwood, Mrs. Will Magee, Mrs. Williams, Mrs. Edson Adams, Miss Wilcox, Miss Bessie Wilcox, Miss Mae Perkins, Mrs. C. M. Goodall, Mrs. Will Johnson.

CARD PARTY.

Miss Lucretia Burnham has sent out cards for an elaborate affair to be given Tuesday afternoon, October 3. The guests of honor will be Miss Edith Downing and Miss Florence White. Five hundred is the game announced for the afternoon.

AT LUNCHEON.

Mrs. Thomas Magee was hostess a few days ago at a luncheon given at the St. Francis Hotel. Covers were laid for half a dozen friends.

HOUSEHOLD SHOWER.

Miss Edith Beck was hostess today at a "household shower," complimentary to Miss Carolyn Williamson, whose marriage takes place next week. The guests were Miss Ruth Kales, Miss Bessie Fillmore, Miss Louise Stone, Miss Frances Williamson, Miss Roberta Deal, Miss Martin Waterhouse, Miss Clarissa Lohse, Miss Evelyn Adams, Miss Lucretia Burnham, Mrs. Irving Burrell, Mrs. Murray Orrick, Miss May Coogan, Miss Ethel Crellin, Miss Ethel Sims, Miss Phoebe McElrath, Mrs. Byron Stone Jr., Miss Irene Bangs and Miss Bessie Reed.

GUEST OF HONOR.

Mrs. Clarence Hilleary was guest of honor Wednesday at a pleasant luncheon planned by Mrs. George Rodolph at her East Oakland home. After luncheon an hour was spent at bridge, the prize going to Miss George Strong.

WEDDING DATE.

The marriage of Miss Katherine Glass and Dr. Munson of the navy is set for Monday afternoon, October 2, at the home of Admiral Glass in Berkeley. Mrs. Frederick McLeod Fenwick will attend Miss Glass as matron of honor.

DEATH OF MRS. WHITTAKER.

A large circle of friends will hear with deepest regret of the death of Mrs. Whittaker, wife of Herman Whittaker, the well-known writer. Mrs. Whittaker was subject to an operation for appendicitis, which proved fatal, and the woman who had endeared herself to so many friends, passed away yesterday morning. The beautiful Whittaker home in Piedmont has been the scene of many pleasant gatherings for several years past, and the coterie of literary and artistic people about the bay will sadly miss the charming woman who presided at former reunions. Mrs. Whittaker leaves besides her husband, Miss Edna Whittaker, a beautiful daughter, Herman Whittaker Jr., and five younger children.

A POPULAR LAMENT.

Where Would Society Be If One Was Judged for the Sins of Others? "O! I tried one of those hair tonics sometime ago and it never did me a bit of good." That's what many people are saying today when they refuse Herpicide a trial. It would be as sensible to say, "I never travel on a railroad because I often see collisions mentioned in the papers." Newbros Herpicide is specially made to destroy the germ that is living on the roots of your hair. That is why it is so exceedingly efficacious—it is there for the sole purpose of ridding the hair of this parasitic growth, after which the hair grows as nature intended. Sold by leading druggists. Send 10c in stamps for sample to The Herpicide Co., Detroit, Michigan. Bowman & Co., special agents.

PLEAD WITH THE MIKADO TO VETO TREATY

Forty Direct Memorials Objecting to Terms of Peace Sent to Throne.

TOKIO, Sept. 22, 4 p. m.—The number of direct memorials to the throne from different individuals and associations objecting to the conditions of the peace treaty and asking that its ratification be refused exceeds forty. The most conspicuous of these is an address signed by six professors of the imperial university, one of whom recently was placed on the retired list, owing to a strongly worded anti-peace thesis which he was the author. The memorial of the professors, as published, strongly urges the necessity of refusing the ratification of the treaty of peace recently concluded, which it condemns as entirely annulling the purpose of the war, as stated in the declaration of hostilities. It also states the existence of indisputable reasons for the refusal of ratification, as the treaty is deemed to be pregnant with elements of humiliation and future danger to the interests of the nation. In conclusion the memorial humbly begs condensation and consideration of the spirit in which it is presented.

WILL HOLD OFFICE.

Despite persistent editorials in the leading papers demanding the resignation of the government ministers, it is believed they will continue to hold office until the post-bellum measures, especially with regard to finance and the Chinese and Korean problems, have assumed a definite shape. It has transpired that, notwithstanding Premier Taishan's assurance to the editors, there exists a clause of the peace treaty by which Japanese are not to for-

AT COUNTRY CLUB.

Mrs. Alfred Von der Ropp will be hostess Thursday, October 5, at a unique affair to be given at the Claremont Country Club. A fete champetre is planned for the afternoon and a large number of society people are included in the guest list. The tables will be spread beneath great Japanese umbrellas on the lawn, and a score of friends will assist the hostess in entertaining her guests.

ENTERTAINS FRIENDS.

Mrs. Gordon Stolp was hostess this afternoon at a delightful 4 o'clock tea given at her attractive Lakeside home. About twenty guests participated in the informal affair. Mrs. Stolp will entertain at an elaborate affair to be given next Friday afternoon, and a large number of friends are included in the guest list.

CENTREVILLE AFFAIRS.

Miss Nellie Brophy of San Francisco, who has been visiting her sister, Mrs. J. G. Mattos Jr., for the past month, has been entertained by many of her friends while here. Tuesday afternoon of last week Mrs. J. M. Norris was hostess at an informal "at home," given in her honor, and Thursday Miss Dusterberry gave a luncheon. The guests were friends of the young lady, so the afternoons were pleasantly spent in renewing old acquaintance.

PERSONALS.

Mrs. and Mrs. A. R. Dabney left last evening for a trip to Portland. They will spend about three weeks in the North. Mr. and Mrs. George H. Wheaton leave shortly for a few days' visit at McCrae. Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Harbour (nee Sterrett) are enjoying a short stay at Stockton.

Well, Well! The bowlers in THE TRIBUNE tournament on the Syndicate Alleys certainly went some last night.

There were registered two scores over the 600 mark and four over the 500 mark, and nine men bowling in the set:

Here are the figures:

There are thirteen scores of 1,000 or better, out of the twenty-five who have bowled six games.

Hartley will have to have 600 or better to head the list.

TONIGHT'S ENTRIES.

The fourth set will bowl tonight and is composed of the following: Ellis, Barnett, Hartley, Galt, Gregg, Leonard, Hoffman, Beckwith, Kennedy.

Hartley, yesterday afternoon, bowled 849 in four games, an average of 212½.

HIGH SCORES.

KAUFFMAN TO ENTER RING WEIGHING 182 POUNDS

When Al Kauffman makes his bow in a professional ring next Thursday night he will be given a much bigger reception than was accorded Jimmy Britt when he made his debut into the business as a professional on that February night in 1902.

Kauffman's associates and club-mates who have watched him from the very first moment he put on a pair of gloves in the department of physical culture at the Olympic Club's gymnasium, are planning on giving their old club chum a good send off when he faces Harry Foley, and the reception the big amateur heavyweight champion gets will no doubt remind us of Britt's first trial in a fight of longer than four rounds.

No fighter has started with more favorable conditions than Kauffman; he has had the good fortune to be associated with the very best people, who are interested in boxing matters, and he has also been fortunate in having the Olympic Club behind him with the brainy Dewitt Van Court as an instructor, and, finally, to top it all off, he is placed under the personal care and direction of that veteran trainer and handler, Billy Delaney, who will see him over his first hurdle, and with all such advantages Al Kauffman should indeed be grateful.

In Harry Foley, the big amateur heavyweight champion of the coast, will meet a young and strong fellow, who has taken excellent care of himself and who knows the tricks of the game from first to last, and he will have to be at his very best if he hopes to win.

Foley has as good a punch as most fellows of his weight, and if he should land a wallop square on Kauffman's jaw, it is very apt to mean "curtains" with the Olympian.

Billy Delaney stated last night that Kauffman would enter the ring weighing about 182, while Foley would be a dozen pounds lighter, thus giving the big amateur champion an advantage in the matter of heft, but still twelve pounds is not such a great advantage among big fellows.

Foley is much the faster of the two, and his friends are sure he will wallop the pride out of the ambitious Kauffman and spoli Delaney's chances of launching another champion.

It remains to be seen which of the pair will win, but in the meantime the sports are talking of the contest a great deal, and the reception the Olympic Club had will get from his club-mates will no doubt be looked forward to with great interest.

"Ham" Iberg was the real candy kid yesterday, and as a result of his efforts the ferry-chasers are once more in the 600 class.

The lazy puffs that "Ham" floated over as an offering to the Portland people were of the real puzzling kind, and if Buck Francks had not been attacked by an enlargement of the heart and made a present of a run, the visitors would not have scored. The verdict:

SEATTLE, Wash., Sept. 22.—Lynch and Graham worked the squeeze play for the run that tied the score in the ninth inning. In the tenth Kane let Sheehan's drive to the outfield for through him, and a moment later Sheehan scored on Nordyke's three-bagger. Nordyke scored on Eagan's infield hit, and Seattle could not overcome the lead. There were men on the second and third, with only one down in Seattle's half, but Blankenship was an easy out. A pass to Hart filed the bases, but Streib was laid away without trouble. Vickers, who really deserved a shut-out for errors was responsible for all of Tacoma's runs. He struck out thirteen men. Eagan batted for Brown in the ninth, and Emerson pitched the last two innings. He was very wild, and in the tenth Graham sent Keefe out to warm up, but did not use him.

Railroad Man to Change in the License Laws at Hayward.

BERKELEY Sept 22—The city trustees at their meeting Thursday evening passed a general license ordinance. By its terms the number of saloons in Hayward is limited to 20, and it is provided that if one or more of the present firms in that business goes out of existence the total number of saloons in the town shall be reduced by that number.

MAKES ADDRESS TO NEWMAN CLUB

BERKELEY, Sept 22—Rev Dr McGuire of the Latin department of the Washington Catholic University addressed the Newman Club at Stiles Hall yesterday afternoon at 4 o'clock. His lecture was very interesting and was well appreciated by those who attended. The club will have a lecture throughout the year by distinguished Catholics this being the first.

NOT A PEACE OPTIMIST
"Why don't you and your next-door neighbor quit quarrelling?" asked Mr. Dolan. "Couldn't I make peace between you?" "What's the good?" rejoined Mr. Rafferty. "It'd be like the Russians and the Japs. We'd quit quarrelling across the fence and go to fighting among ourselves." —Washington Star

MALARIA UNDERMINES THE HEALTH

When the germs of malaria enter the blood the entire health is affected, and the blood is not purified of these germs and microbes, Chronic Sores and Ulcers, Liver Spots, Chills and Fevers, Boils, Aches and Pains, and a great variety of troubles manifest themselves, and soon the entire system is undermined, leaving the sufferer a prey to a most miserable, weak and nervous condition.

918 W. Market St., Louisville, Ky.
For several years I suffered with Chills and Fever, caused by Malaria in my system, and each summer for several years I would have a relapse. Finally my physician prescribed S. S. S. I took a few bottles, this was about six years ago. It entirely cured me, and I have never been troubled since. I am sure no other medicine could have given me so complete and immediate relief, and I cannot speak too highly of S. S. S. My partner in business is now taking S. S. S. for an eruption of the skin, and a general run-down condition of the system, and although he has taken but one bottle, already commoner troubles are disappearing.

S. S. S. counteracts and drives all the poison from the blood and builds up the system by its fine purifying qualities and tonic effects. It strengthens every part, increases the appetite, helps the stomach and digestion, and by supplying the body with rich, pure blood cures Malaria and all its disagreeable ailments. Unlike most blood medicines S. S. S. is purely vegetable. It does not contain a particle of mineral of any kind to disagreeably affect the stomach, digestion and bowels, but by cleansing and strengthening the blood, puts every part of the body in healthy condition. Book on the blood and any medical advice desired without charge.

PREPARING TO PRODUCE CLASSICAL PLAY

"Paola and Francesca" on the Stage of Greek Theater at University.

BERKELEY, Sept 22—The first rehearsal for the production of Paola and Francesca to be given the latter part of this term by the University Dramatic Association will be held today at 5 o'clock in the Greek Theater. The play to be produced is a recently written by Stephen Phillips the eminent English author and dramatist. The plot of the play is arranged is taken from Dante's "Inferno" written during the thirteenth century and is supposed to be founded on actual facts. Mr. Phillips has cleverly adapted its production to the modern stage in a most artistic manner. So popular is the story that many of the greatest actors now before the public have added it to their repertoire, James Ward Kiddle and Sarah Bernhardt being well known in the roles. It is planned to give the play during the latter part of this term in the

MATHEMATICIANS AT UNIVERSITY
BERKELEY Sept 22—The San Francisco section of the American Mathematical Society will hold a regular meeting at the University of California Saturday September 30 in room 21 North hall. The first session will open at 11 a. m. and the second session at 2 p. m. At the morning session an election of officers will be held.

At the meeting mathematical professors from various universities will read papers.

BERKELEY Sept 22—Four students of the University had a narrow escape yesterday afternoon in what threatened to be a fatal automobile smashup.

The machine containing P. N. Gray, 05 president of the Associated Students, C. B. Head, 07 Roy Warner, 07 student manager of the Pelican and F. Stanner, 05 was dashing along the road near Harmon gymnasium when Warner, who was acting as chauffeur, lost control of the automobile.

The heavy Winton Toledo dashed against the curb, throwing the occupants high into the air and landing them some distance away. Miss Sue A. Ross, a "co-ed" had to step lively to avoid a collision as she was right in the way of the machine.

Luckily no one was injured beyond a few scratches and abrasions. The machine, which is the property of the Pelican Publishing Company, was completely demolished.

LIFE IN OCEAN
Bulletin Tells of Things in the Sea.

BERKELEY Sept 22—The University Press has recently issued a bulletin from the Department of Zoology under the title The Pelagic Cepopoda of the San Diego Region by Cath. O. Easterly in which is given the first account of any completeness of this group of marine animals for the Pacific Coast. Sixty species are described and illustrated with figures. The paper is the fifth in a series dealing with the fauna of the San Diego region from the Marine Biological Laboratory of the University of California at La Jolla and will be a useful contribution to the material available for the general student of sea life.

Faultless in Effect

No matter what the price, the value in every garment you buy here is generous—more so than you would expect. We have been especially fortunate in making our Fall selections. Our buyer was instructed to secure the very best of material and of workmanship in Suits that—at the narrowest margin of profit—could be sold at 12.50 and 15.00. He spent weeks among the best Eastern makers of good clothes and secured just what we wanted—just what the men of Oakland want for every-day wearing. The Suits are here, they have all the appearance of twenty-dollars Suits and we confidently risk our reputation on your judgment of them. You will find them not like others either in style or in price.

ALAMEDA BOARD OF EDUCATION FACES A DISTURBING PROBLEM.

ALAMEDA, September 22—The Board of Education finds itself in a quandary in endeavoring to enforce the compulsory education law. The matter was recently taken up by the School Board, when a truancy officer was appointed. The children of the city were distrusted off, and a record secured of those attending school and those of school age who were, from one cause and another, being deprived of an education.

The truancy officer was instructed to call upon parents whose children were not in school and notify them of their responsibilities, and of the purpose of the School Board to see that the law was enforced in most cases little opposition was met with, but School Superintendent Fred T. Moore states that unforeseen difficulties have now arisen and that if the situation is not clarified some arrests of parents may be made.

In order to carry on our work systematically, said Superintendent Moore, "it has been required that where parents have children who are in attendance at private schools or schools other than the public schools, that they should secure a certificate from such schools attesting the facts. Plans have been provided and supplied from this department for this purpose. The names of such pupils are given with the list of studies they are pursuing, and these records are filed away for future reference."

"All of the private schools have furnished this information except the Academy of Notre Dame, which has refused to give us the information desired. For some reason some one is preventing us from securing the data we require from that institution."

Parents are obliged to satisfy as to their children of school age are attending schools and we cannot take their word for it. In the case of pupils attending Notre Dame Academy, the parents cannot secure the certificates. This places us in a peculiar position, as any one who might desire to keep his or her child out of school need only say that they are at the Notre Dame College and our inquiry would be at an end.

The matter is rather a delicate one, and we hope to have it settled before we are obliged to go to any extremes. It may be necessary to arrest some of the parents without resorting to this harsh expedient."

DEATH OF JULIUS QUINCHARD.
ALAMEDA, September 22—The death yesterday morning of Julius Quinchard at his home 1546 Santa Clara Avenue, was due to valvular disease of the heart. Deceased who had resided here for thirty-two years, and in California for fifty years, had been ailing for some time although able to be about up to the time of his death. He arose as usual and after going to the bath room in his home expired suddenly. When it was discovered that he was stricken Dr. Henry M. Pond was summoned but when he arrived the capitalist and early resident was found to have passed away.

Deceased was a native of Germany, aged 78 years and three months. His father was a Frenchman. Years ago Quinchard was a partner in the Custom House brokerage business in San Francisco of John H. Borden. He accumulated considerable property in this city.

Quinchard and his wife Mrs. Dimas Quinchard lived alone in the house, and have no near relatives. Mrs. Quinchard has herself been in poor health for some time. Deceased was a nephew of the Auchenbach brothers, famous landscape artists of Holland.

BODY ARRIVES
ALAMEDA, September 22—The remains of Captain Daniel Graham, who was a pioneer pilot of this coast, and whose death occurred suddenly at Portland, Oregon were received here last night, and the funeral is to take place today.

place from his late residence, 1433 Ninth street.

The deceased was a member of the Masonic fraternity, and was also associated with the Ancient Order of United Workmen and other organizations. He served for years as a Columbia River Bar pilot, having gone to Astoria in 1885, and first shipping on the old pilot schooner California. Subsequently he was pilot on the Portland-San Francisco steamer Columbia. In later years he had been in the tugboat service, being master of the tugboat Escort. About a dozen years ago he retired, and had since made his home in this city. His death came suddenly while visiting relatives in Portland. Deceased was a native of Scotland aged 63 years.

YOUNG LADIES' INSTITUTE.
ALAMEDA, Sept 22—Young Ladies' Institute, No. 51, is to give a musical tournament in Woodmen Hall next Tuesday evening, and twenty handsome prizes are to be awarded to fortunate players at the popular game. The committee of arrangements consists of Mrs. A. Mulvaney (chairman), Mrs. D. Wilson, Miss O. Foley and Miss J. Cleaves. The young ladies who will act as scorers are Miss Lizzie Du Fosse, Miss Josie Wieland, Miss Alice Le Clerc, Miss May Mulvaney, Miss Gladys Rose, Miss Helen Smith, Miss Irene Tweedie, Miss Hahn, Miss Irene Kochendorfer, Miss Mabel Rye, Miss Alice Manley, Miss Lillian Kavanagh and Miss Rachel Hayward.

ALAMEDA, Sept 22—The Knights Templar have secured complete control of the second floor of Masonic Temple at the northwest corner of Twelfth and Washington streets and will hereafter make it their headquarters.

The main lodge-room has been furnished by the Masonic Temple Association on a scale of richness which is nowhere equaled on the Coast. $6000 having been expended in the work.

The floor includes another hall besides the lodge-room and is about half the size of the main chamber. This second hall has the same height of ceiling as the lodge-room which is twenty-two feet in the clear. The upper half of this chamber has been floored off and affords another apartment ten feet in height. In this room the Commandery has established its armory and Eminent Commander Dr. R. A. Week says there is no more capacious one of the kind on the Coast. The place having a capacity for 700 lockers.

This move on the part of the Commandery gives satisfaction to the Knights because they feel that all the needs of the Commandery both with respect to the comfort of the Sir Knights and its requirements for ritualistic work, have been liberally and richly supplied. Oakland Commandery is increasing its membership in a satisfactory manner, and now has 336 members in the ranks.

Springs.
S. A. Read, Cisco Texas writes, March 11, 1901. My wrist was sprained so badly by a fall that it was useless, and after using several remedies that failed to give relief used Ballard's Snow Liniment and was cured. I earnestly recommend it to any one suffering from sprains.

Quite often we are enabled to offer exceptionally good bargains in second-hand sewing machines. Many of these are good as new. Some are taken in exchange for new machines.

Others have been rented and still others come to us from a variety of causes. We have a complete repairing department where an expert puts these machines in first-class shape. When we sell a second-hand machine we guarantee that it is just as we represent it.

At this time we have some first-class, second-hand sewing machines at prices that seem ridiculously small. Look at the window display and come inside and see more.

We have but one business—to sell, rent and repair sewing machines and to supply everything required for running them.

COLONISTS ARE COMING.

CALIFORNIA PROMOTION COMMITTEE LOOKS FOR A LIVELY SEASON.

The California Promotion Committee announces that the prospect for travel this fall promises to exceed any colonist movement towards California during all the influx of several years past.

In fact, it looks as though travel would be a record-breaker, despite the fact that the travel to California during the last three years has exceeded any records for travel in the history of the State, not even excepting the gold rush days of 1849 and 1850.

Colonist rates, or one-way rates, commenced September 15th, and parties of colonists are now being made up in the East preparatory to starting for California and other Pacific States points.

New settlers have already called at the headquarters of the Promotion Committee from Kansas and other points. Advice from passenger agents in the East and from agents of freight shipping companies indicates many inquiries in the Eastern and Middle West States on the part of intending settlers who intend to take advantage of the present rates.

Many settlers who have been planning to come to California have now gotten their affairs in such shape that they are able to come now. The intention of the committee is to have different points in this State, and settlers who have been in correspondence with the committee, are coming from Oswego, N. Y.; Fargo, North Dakota, Brooklyn, N. Y.; St. Louis, Lansing, Michigan; Millis, Michigan; Norcross, Georgia; Richmond, Indiana; Popular Bluff, Missouri; and will arrive in the course of a few days. Other parties of settlers are being made up to arrive later in the season.

Beautiful Women.

Plump cheeks, flushed with the soft glow of health and a pure complexion, make all woman beautiful. Take a small dose of Herbine after each meal, will prevent constipation and help digest what you have eaten.

Wm. M. Stroud, Middlethorpe, Tex. writes, May 31, 1901:

"We have used Herbine in our family for eight years, and found it the best medicine ever used for constipation, bilious fever and malaria."

FRANCE TO TAKE ACTION AGAINST VENEZUELA

Offensive Attitude Causing Great Indignation Among the Officials.

PARIS Sept 22.—The offensive attitude of Venezuela toward M. Taigny, the French Charge d'Affaires at Caracas has aroused indignation here.

Although the ministry has not yet taken definite action it is said in the highest quarters that Premier Rouvier undoubtedly will demand that Venezuela disavow the offensive action and adopt a course conformable with the usual courtesies of diplomatic intercourse.

The Venezuelan authorities are now seeking to show that their action was directed against M. Taigny personally and not against the French government, but the officials here do not accept the distinction between M. Taigny's personal and official capacity.

He has high standing at the foreign office where he recently served. He also aided Ambassador Cambou at Washington during the most delicate phases of the Spanish negotiations.

Therefore, there is no intention here to permit Venezuela to make a scapegoat of him.

MAKES EXPLANATION

The official directly charged with handling Venezuelan questions explained the general status of the controversy as follows:

Venezuela supports the closing of the French Cable Company's inland stations on the ground of the decision of the Venezuelan courts. France does not question the right of the courts, but maintains that the decision of the courts contained nothing authorizing the executive branch to seize and shut up the cable stations.

Morover, only a day before shutting up the inland stations Venezuela gave assurance that General Viludini, the Venezuelan Minister at Paris would take steps to satisfactorily adjust the question. Therefore, M. Taigny protested on the ground that the court's decisions did not justify closing stations. This protest was not M. Taigny's personally but followed specific instructions from the foreign office. Therefore it is impossible to raise a personal issue.

A separate verbal protest which was made against the expulsion of Manager of the French Cable Company on the ground that the right to extend foreign lines only apply to M. Brun was permanently domiciled in Caracas. It is to be expected that a demand will be made that Venezuela disavow the action taken. The subsequent course of France will depend upon Venezuela's reply.

Inquiry makes it perfectly certain that Venezuela has placed orders at the Cruzot works for eight field batteries and four mountain batteries, the latter consisting of four guns each.

It was announced from Caracas September 20 that the Venezuelan government had that date made the following reply to the protest lodged September 19 by M. Taigny: The French charge d'affaires against the closing of the land stations of the French Cable Company and the expulsion of the manager of the company Brun.

The government holds documents proving that the French Cable Company has accepted the result of the judicial proceedings brought against it. The government is only waiting to establish new relations between them and the company. M. Taigny, the French charge d'affaires knows this and therefore the protest can be only considered as an act of personal hostility. For this reason the government will abstain from treating with the French government through M. Taigny.

BISHOP MAY BE IN DEAL

GOSSIP ABOUT CHANGING FROM THE MAJESTIC TO THE CENTRAL

SAN FRANCISCO Sept 22.—A persistent rumor partially confirmed by some of the parties concerned and denied by others to the effect that the Central and Majestic theaters are to change management in the near future came to a head yesterday. The deal involving the Central may be consummated today. By it the Peluso interests it is said will relinquish the Central Theater to Mr. W. Bishop the present manager of the Majestic. It is rumored also that the latter will dispose of the Majestic to the Shubert Brothers of New York. What understanding if any Peluso may have made with the Shuberts is not known.

The parties to the supposed transactions vary considerably in their statements. Mr. Bishop when seen last night denied absolutely that arrangements were in progress by which he was to acquire the Central and said of the Shubert Brothers contract with himself that it was merely an understanding that they by which the plays were to be booked at his house, the same as those of any other independent company.

The present stock company will continue here at the Majestic at least it will for the present year. He added that James W. Horne, treasurer of the company when seen last night in contradiction of Mr. Bishop's sweeping denial and mitted that the deal is under way. "Mr. Bishop, our manager he said will be here in the morning and though everything is left undecided tonight the negotiations will probably be closed up tomorrow. I don't know him. As for the deal, I know all about it and can give the particulars."

Mr. Peluso himself was seen at a late hour last night and denied the whole affair. He said of Mr. Bishop of the Majestic that he had spent the entire afternoon with his lawyers.

Mr. Peluso himself was seen at a late hour last night and denied the whole affair. He said of Mr. Bishop of the Majestic that he had spent the entire afternoon with his lawyers.

MRS. FINE TO BE SEEN IN CONCERT

Among Beatrice Fine's numbers next Monday night will be the famous waltz song by Leo Stern an aria from "Aida" by Saint Saens, the Capella Ballet Music a Richard Strauss song and two Greg numbers. The entire second part of her program is given up to English songs containing the four light numbers which made such a distinct hit at the Home Club concert. "Madcap Marjorie," "The Emperor," "An Open Secret" and "The Cuckoo." There will also be other numbers by Henschel Raudigger and Buch.

INSULTS WOMAN, IS CUT; 13 AT THE TABLE

After Fatal Stabbing Affray, the 13 People Jump Into Automobiles and Disappear.

NEW YORK Sept. 22.—As the result of an insult offered to a woman who was with him James Nelson 23 years old was fatally stabbed early this morning by a man not yet identified in a restaurant in Brooklyn.

The man who stabbed Nelson was one of a crowd of thirteen automobiles returning from an automobile parade last night on Coney Island.

In the party were seven men and six women. They drove to the restaurant in three automobiles. When the fifty had its incident on it not known. When Nelson fell stabbed three times in the neck, back of the head and chest, the thirteen ran to the door jumped into the waiting automobiles and drove away. They were pursued for several blocks but escaped.

TO FOUND SAHARAN EMPIRE

Millionaire Baron to Establish Cities on the Desert.

NEW YORK, Sept. 22.—According to the Herald's Tangier Correspondent, a passenger on board the steam yacht, Honor, who is well acquainted with the plans of Baron de Forest, is authority for the statement that under pretext of a mere hunting trip the Baron has prepared an armed expedition to the desert of Sahara with the support of the British Government.

For this purpose the yacht is supplied with from 3000 to 4000 Winchester repeating rifles with ammunition and other material. It is stated that Baron de Forest intended to found a Saharan empire believing that his influence and millions would enable him to carry the scheme to a successful issue.

Baron de Forest has been recently in frequent communication with a famous French Africanist. His idea is that the execution of his project will be of political advantage to the British Government. He will endeavor to establish and maintain British preponderance. The correspondent after filing a dispatch containing the above facts, cables that he has received a private communication from Mogador to the effect that Baron de Forest and party started on the night of September 15th for the Desert of Sahara.

The correspondent of the Herald at Las Palmas states that Baron de Forest's yacht the Honor arrived there on the morning of September 18 and sailed on mid-day on September 19 probably to Tenerife for Despatches. The Honor remained six days at Mogador. A chance she came here. She carries a crew of 35. The Baron and Baroness de Forest, were both on board together with Mr. Harris, of Tangier and several distinguished looking Moors.

RAILROAD WAR IN NORTH

HARRIMAN INTERESTS WILL MAKE MOVE TO CHECK HILL.

PORTLAND, Or., Sept. 22.—The Evening Telegram says. Private advices to the Telegram from Tillamook and vicinity confirm the details of the coming of the Santa Fe Railway into Oregon. It is no longer doubted that the engineers who have been in the coast district for some time past are Santa Fe men and that their work has progressed far enough to show the grades that must be reckoned with in building the line north from Doreka, Cal. Though the Santa Fe is heading for Astoria it is not presumed the run to Portland will be made by way of the city by the sea, but that instead a branch will be constructed from the coast to this city.

Concealment is no longer possible of the intentions of the Hill and Harriman interests to wage the bitterest warfare of recent years in railroad history of the Pacific Coast. The Portland and Seattle Railroad Company had been formed to build down the north bank of the Columbia river from Kennewick to Vancouver and it is not consistent with the previous accomplishments of J. J. Hill to fall in an undertaking once definitely decided on.

On the other hand the Harriman interests are equally determined to place every possible obstacle in the way of the invading army of railroad builders that is being marshalled to parallel the Oregon Railroad and Navigation Company down the water-level route of the Columbia.

Behind the organization of the Walla Walla and Pacific, the Harriman forces were first concealed in the personnel of incorporators of this new company. These names are also linked with the Columbia Valley. The Harriman forces six years ago when another fight over the north bank track privileges was promised but when the rival northern lines were not united in a common cause, as at present, or in a position nearly so strong to prosecute their cause.

The application of the Harriman corporation for easements on the school lands section in the vicinity of Cape Horn in which the new Portland and Seattle Company seems to have beat them at the game reveals the wisdom of the Northern Pacific officials in hastening engineering corps and crews of graders and shovels to Cape Horn and other strategic points to occupy the right of way in advance of any other.

Up to the time the men identified with the Harriman companies holding right of way along the north bank have defied their connection with the Union Pacific interests but the action now taken reveals beyond any question the concealed climax in the contest for the supremacy will be frequent from this time forward with appeals to courts as incidents while the shrewdest construction men in the world of the two systems will be pitted against each other.

DICK HYLAND OFFERED A FIGHT

Eddie Quinn, matchmaker for the Spokane Athletic Club, has wired an offer to Dick Hyland to meet Maurice Thompson of Butte in a twenty-round fight and Hyland has forwarded his acceptance. Thompson fought a draw with Charlie Nease of Milwaukee at Spokane on September 15th, and is considered to be the coming lightweight of the Northwest. Hyland is in good shape and is doing a little boxing daily with Alex Greggrains.

MAN OF SOCIETY MARRIES SECRETLY

DENVER, Sept. 22.—Miss Emma Lippincott of Philadelphia and Edward S. Powell of Denver artist and society man were married secretly at Littleton, Colo., September 2. Secretly, it is said was decided upon because of some parental opposition. The couple went overland into Rocky Mountain, Colorado, for their honeymoon.

Miss Lippincott came to Denver two years ago for her health. Her male relatives comprise the well-known Philadelphia firm of publishers Powell is a Harvard graduate and his bride is highly educated and has traveled much. Powell recently attended a "frat" convention in Cincinnati and on his way home met his fiancée who was returning from an Eastern visit. Then they planned the wedding which occurred in the Episcopal church in the presence of two witnesses one of whom, a woman, revealed the secret today.

ANOTHER SEASON IS INAUGURATED

The Star King Fraternity held a reception at the Unitarian Church last night inaugurating its twentieth season. There was a large assemblage of members present. The president, W. H. Gorham, made the opening address. He gave an outline for the work of the season. He said it was the intention of the club to have five or six meetings open to the public in order that non-members could get an idea of the work the Fraternity was doing. It has also been decided to reduce the dues to make the society as wide as possible. Rev. William Jones of the Unitarian Church, also delivered an address. There were two readings by Miss Emmabelle Hudson Zucker. In

The Reliable GROCER

406 Fourteenth St.

Athenian Club Building.

Purity and Promptness are two of the most important things in the grocery business. In this age of substitution and adulteration a person needs to have as much confidence in the grocer as in the doctor.

Russell's is known as the place where pure food only carried and where everything is just as represented.

Promptness adds largely to the success of running a home. Russell's is known as the grocery which makes a specialty of prompt delivery.
